USW, KAISER SEEN NEAR ACCORD

BACK TO SCHOOL. More than 200 East Liverpool school teachers went back to class this morning to participate in an economic education workshop at Westgate School sponsored by the East Liverpool Teachers Association in co-operation with the Ohio Council on Economic Education and Ohio University. Reviewing the program from the left are Dr. Fred Picard, chairman of the Department of Economics at Ohio University; Miss Mildred McGregor, assistant principal at Westgate and committee chairman; Dr. Robert L. Forbes, assistant professor of education at OU, and Austen Moore, president of the ELTA.

Agreement Would Crack Solid Front

Two-Year Package Of 21-Cent Boost New Union Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Steelworkers Union was reported near agreement today with Kaiser Steel Co. on a strike settlement. The union was pressing the same proposals on the rest of the industry.

The union's proposed settlement terms were reported to call for a two-year package deal of benefits and wage raises worth about 21 cents an hour. Pre-strike earnings averaged $3.11 an hour.

Informants said the proposal called for no wage increase but substantial fringe benefits in the first year and a wage hike in the second year.

These sources also said the union had reached an understanding on the offer with Edgar Kaiser, chairman of the board of Kaiser Steel Corp.

In response to inquiries about this, Kaiser issued a statement saying Kaiser Steel Corp. has no written or verbal agreement or any commitment to enter into an agreement with the Steelworkers Union.

Kaiser is one of the 12 big steel companies banded together in bargaining with the union. A breakaway by Kaiser would crack their solid front.

The industry was reported striving to keep Kaiser in line to continue resistance to union demands and hold out for a less expensive settlement.

There were rumors that several others of the 12 steel companies were also dickering with the union on settlement proposals. Mentioned in these rumors were Jones & Laughlin and Wheeling Steel Co.

It was reported the union proposal contemplates that the industry would abandon the work rule changes it has said are necessary to achieve labor economies.

The reports and rumors of the settlement proposal were flying about as new union-industry negotiations got under way.

These were at a hotel here.

David J. McDonald, president of the Steelworkers Union, entered the hotel room to a chorus of questions from newsmen about the reported near agreement with Kaiser. McDonald declined comment.

The union was expected to place its new offer, paring down its earlier settlement proposal, before the entire industry in the negotiating session.

The 21 cent package deal, reported to be the union's new proposal, is about 8 cents under its earlier demands.

In sending the antagonists back into negotiations to end the 94-day steel stoppage before Monday, Chairman George W. Taylor of President Eisenhower's inquiry panel said resuming of steel production is more important than how it is done.

Taylor's three-man inquiry board is due to file its report on the strike issues with the White House Monday, provided there is no settlement. Taylor has said a peace pact by then would be a major miracle, but he still had hopes.

On receipt of the report, Eisenhower could order the Justice Department to apply for a court injunction to stop the strike for 80 days.

That would get the mills back to work. But it would not settle the dispute. The union already has voted to strike again at the end of the 80 days.

Both the union and the steel companies have presented their versions of the tangled dispute to the fact finders. Four days of testimony wound up Thursday.

Taylor then proposed arbitration. Both sides rejected it. So the chairman called for resumed negotiations before a final open session with the panel Sunday morning.

The union originally asked for 15 cents per hour wage-benefit gains for each year of a new contract — to match, the union says, the gains obtained under its old expired contract. Steelworkers were averaging $3.11 hourly before the strike.

Boys Nabbed For Breaking Street Lights

1st Severe Outbreak Of Early Halloween Vandalism Reported

Police started a roundup of boys today after 11 street lights were broken Thursday night in an East End neighborhood — the first severe outbreak of pre-Halloween vandalism this year.

Capt. Robert H. Pyle, acting chief, said parents will be held responsible for destruction of property in any vandalism such as the street light smashing. He said police are making a systematic roundup of the youngsters involved in last night's case, preparing to refer them to Chris Pusey, county juvenile probation officer.

Smashing of the street lights was reported about 9:15 last night. All are the property of the Ohio Power Co. The damage was concentrated in a single area in the western section of East End.

Officers said the lights were broken on Ohio Ave. at Beleek St., Beaver St., Needham St. and Mulberry St.; on Railroad St. at 1st Ave. and Needham St.; on St. George St. at Beleek St. and Irving St., and at Kent and Beleek Sts., State and Beleek Sts. and Mapletree St. and Virginia Ave.

In most cases, the boys broke the lights by hurling stones, the captain said. The policy that parents will be held responsible for damage applies to all cases of pre-Halloween vandalism, not just the light - breaking incident, the captain warned.

Three theft cases were reported last night in the same East End area, along with a vandalism episode in Klondyke.

Charles Uselton, 311 Beleek St., told police 5 gallons of gasoline were sipohoned out of his auto while it was parked at the rear of his home between 6 p. m. and midnight.

Morris Briggs, 110 W. Center Ln., reported his auto was ransacked while parked in Akron Alley between 6 and 11:55 p. m. Ten 20-gauge shotgun shells were taken.

Peter Gerace, 835 Ohio Ave., told police his auto was looted of merchandise worth $8.95 while it was parked near his home between 8:30 and 10:30 p. m. The stolen articles included a women's girdle, three boxes of "thank you" cards, two quarts of milk, a loaf of bread and a package of gauze, he said. The owner later found the cards and the gauze on the street about a half a block away, officers said.

Jess L. Pinney, 2016 Michigan Ave., told police Thursday afternoon tomatoes were thrown against his house about 10 p. m. Wednesday, striking the rear door and the shingles.

Report Of Ike, Nixon Discord Under Attack

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House has labeled ridiculous a news magazine report that President Eisenhower and Vice President Richard M. Nixon are in basic conflict over important policy questions.

Associate press secretary Anne Wheaton made the comment Thursday after telling newsmen the vice president had an hourlong talk with Eisenhower on "national and international problems of wide range."

She was asked what she thought of the report in the magazine Newsweek, which said Eisenhower no longer consults the vice president on important developments.

"I think that's ridiculous," she replied.

Mrs. Wheaton had volunteered that the President asked Nixon to stay on at the White House after a regular weekly meeting of the National Security Council.

She declined to specify the domestic and international problems they discussed. Asked if they had gotten around to 1960 presidential politics, she said: "I wasn't there, but perhaps it was included."

Nixon left Thursday for a vacation in Florida. Eisenhower returned from a desert vacation at Palm Springs, Calif., last week, and on Tuesday from a brief visit to his boyhood hometown of Abilene, Kan.

U.S. Protests Britain Selling Jets To Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has protested against Britain's plans to sell outmoded jet fighters to the Cuban air force.

Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government is dickering with the British for at least 15 Hawker Hunter fighters to modernize his air force. Castro has proposed swapping 15 propeller-driven British Sea Fury fighters for them.

Some diplomatic reports claim the Cubans also are interested in buying a second batch of 15.

In objecting to the deal, State Department diplomats are understood to have contended such deliveries will add tension to the Caribbean area at a time when anxieties appear to be easing.

Castro is reported to have stressed he wants the jets for defensive purposes only, not for any military action against the regime of his Caribbean foe, Gen. Rafael Trujillo of the Dominican Republic.

Both Cuba and the Dominican Republic have bought infantry weapons from West European countries in recent months at a time when the United States has banned all such American shipments.

Prison Entry Will Be Climax Of Jail Break

3 From Hancock To Join 2 Others Now In Moundsville Pen

The doors of Moundsville State Penitentiary will swing shut behind three Hancock County men this week, the last of a group of five who plotted an escape in early September from the Hancock County Jail in New Cumberland.

Sheriff's deputies said the two escapees — Robert T. Williams, 29, and Walter Cox Steiner, 19, both of Weirton — and Donald C. Beck, 19, of Chester would be transported to Moundsville either today or tomorrow to begin serving sentences imposed in the last two weeks by Judge J. Harold Brennan.

Beck plotted in the escape along with Ronald Howell of East Liverpool and Duane Mercer of New Cumberland.

Williams faces a longer term than any of the other four.

In an appearance Thursday morning before Judge Brennan, Williams pleaded guilty to six indictments returned by the September Grand Jury.

His sentences are 1-10 years for 3 breaking and entering charges, 1-5 for assaulting a sheriff's deputy during the jail escape, and another 1-5 for breaking jail.

The terms will run concurrently, the judge said. An indictment of auto theft was not considered in sentencing yesterday. Williams stole a truck of a Georgtown man to escape to Marshall County where he and Steiner were nabbed by State Police.

Beck, Howell and Mercer drew 1-5 year terms for aiding and abetting in the escape. Howell and Mercer already have been committed to the state prison.

Deputies said Carl Otis Cunningham, 40, of Weirton may be sentenced Monday for the shotgun slaying of his wife, Viola, in March.

Cunningham recently pleaded guilty to voluntary manslaughter of his 31 - year - old blonde wife March 5 in the bedroom of their Weirton Heights home.

Furniture Warehouse Fire Loss Seen $3.000

LISBON — A fire that caused estimated damage of $3,000 to contents and the warehouse of the Dorrence Furniture Co. on S. Beaver St. was brought under control by volunteer fireman at 1:30 p.m. Thursday.

Firemen were called at 12:45 p. m. when Mrs. Lou Talbot saw smoke while passing the building. The 100-year-old building was formerly used for wool storage and has two floors and a large attic.

Mattresses on the first floor, washing machines and unfinished furniture on second floor were damaged.

Fire Chief Thirl Flugan said that wiring in a box on the ceiling above the mattresses, may have shorted, causing the fire.

Big 4 Finally Appears To Be In Agreement

12-Nation Meeting On Antarctica Seen Certain Of Success

WASHINGTON (AP) — For once, the Soviet Union, the United States, Britain and France appear to be on the same side in an important international conference.

In fact, the 12-nation meeting on Atarctica, which buckles down to serious treaty drafting, appeared to be as certain of success as any such gathering could be at the outset of its work.

A Soviet spokesman credits this to an improvement in the international atmosphere resulting from the recent talks between President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev. This is what the Soviet propagandists are coming increasingly to call the "Camp David spirit," so designated because Khrushchev and Eisenhower held their serious policy talks late last month at Camp David, Md.

International cooperation in committing Antarctica to peaceful purposes and barring the machines and intrigues of militarism from that vast frozen wasteland was the theme of the Soviet speech at the opening of the antarctic conference here Thursday as it was the theme of statements by the delegations of the other 11 countries.

Nations participating in addition to the Big Four are Argentina, Australia, Belgium, Chile, Japan, New Zealand, Norway and South Africa.

Speaking for the United States, Ambassador Paul C. Daniels said there was obviously unanimous agreement in favor of a treaty which would pledge all the participating countries to use Antarctica only for peaceful purposes.

Ex-French Official Escapes Assassination

PARIS (AP) — Former Justice Minister Francois Mitterrand escaped an assassin today as he fled across a park from a hail of bullets.

Mitterrand, 43, belongs to the small group of non-Communist leftists who are outspokenly opposed to President Charles de Gaulle and also strongly critical of the right-wing colonials in Algeria.

The would-be assassin escaped.

Nixon Says Basic Issue Next 25 Years Is Peace

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon says the basic issue in the next 25 years is world peace.

Arriving Thursday night for a 10-day vacation, Nixon told newsmen that world peace in the next 25 years hinges on Soviet willingness to play the rules of international competition.

150 Workers Enter Drive

Fund Campaign Front Broadened

Opening another phase in the tri-state Community Fund drive for $83,000, 150 volunteer workers in the men's and women's divisions today prepared to begin solicitation of about 1,400 individuals in 550 area business establishments.

The two divisions are seeking contributions at all smaller firms not classified in the mercantile division, which began its canvass of larger business houses last Monday, and the industrial division, which is soliciting employes of 22 area plants.

By classifying all business and industry into four divisions, the campaign committee hopes that every individual will have an opportunity to contribute.

"One hundred per cent participation is our aim," David E. Beatty, campaign chairman, asserted. "Because every person, industry and business benefits from the six agencies served by the Community Fund, we want everyone to have the opportunity to give his fair share."

The women's division is headed by Mrs. H. Russell Smith, chairman of the advisory committe of the Child Counseling Center and former executive secretary of the same agency. Mrs. Mary Hodgson will serve as assistant chairman and secretary of the women's division, which includes more than 100 workers. About 800 persons are employed in the 270 firms the division will contact for gifts.

Another 280 business establishments employing some 600 individuals will be canvassed by the men's division, headed by Bert Wakefield, residential sales supervisor of the Ohio Power Co. Aiding Wakefield as assistant division chairmen will be Paul H. Blair, assistant school superintendent, and George A. Shaw, advertising manager of the Review.

Both divisions began their drives today after conferring with Beatty and Carl Werner, campaign secretary, at the headquarters in the YMCA.

Before coming to East Liverpool, Mrs. Smith was case work

Wheatley Asks Potters To Support Fund Drive

E. L. Wheatley, president, today asked members of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters to "give generously" to the current Community Fund drive.

Wheatley gave the union's official endorsement to the campaign and said similar community drives will be supported in any other community where the IBOP has local unions. Potters in areas where plants have closed because of the influx of foreign ware "have experienced first - hand knowledge of how social welfare agencies help the troubled, the sick, the desperate and the needy," Wheatley asserted.

4 Are Killed As B52 And Tanker Crash

4 Others Reported Dead, 4 Missing In Fiery Collision

HARDINSBURG, Ky. (AP) — A nuclear-armed B52 bomber and its refueling tanker collided Thursday night in a fiery blast which lit the sky for 150 miles. At least four men were killed.

Four members of the B52 crew were unhurt or suffered only minor injuries. They parachuted to safety after the planes came together while refueling.

Four others were reported dead and four were missing.

"It looked like the whole world — the whole sky — was on fire," said one witness, Eliza Robertson.

The Air Force would not say what type nuclear weapon the B52 carried. It said there was no danger of an explosion.

The eight-jet Strategic Air Command bomber, based at Columbus Air Force Base, Miss., carried a crew of eight. The four-jet KC135 tanker from the base had four men aboard. They were on a routine flight.

Columbus Air Force Base said among the known dead is S.Sgt. Paul E. Thomasson, 27, boom operator on the KC135. His wife is Mary E. Thomasson (143 Hamilton Ave.), Columbus AFB.

It listed the survivors, all from the B52, as: Capt. William G. Gutshall, 36, aircraft commander, Aberdeen, Miss.; Capt. James W. Strother, 40, radar operator, Columbus AFB; Lt. Gino Fugazzi, 24, electronic warfare officer, New York City; and Maj. Milton E. Chatham, 38, instructor pilot, Columbus AFB.

The B52 came down in pieces on a farm about 12 miles south of here and three miles north of where the tanker crashed on another farm.

Wheeling Man Held In Paregoric Purchase

John Dalton, 59, of Wheeling was bound over to the Grand Jury today in Municipal Court when he pleaded guilty to obtaining a narcotic drug-paregoric-in an East Liverpool pharmacy late Thursday afternoon "by fraud, deceit, misrepresentation and use of a false name."

Police said Dalton was arrested on E. 6th St. at 5:45 p.m. by Lt. Thomas A. Walker, about 15 minutes after he purchased the small bottle of paregoric in an E. 5th St. drugstore. Officers said Dalton signed his name as "Joe Hines" in making the purchase.

Law requires purchasers to sign a register when purchasing paregoric, which contains a small quantity of opium. It is known to pharmacists as camphorated tincture of opium.

Parts Of It 'Too Hot To Handle'

Mae West's Appearance On TV Show Is Canceled

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Times change, but not men. And that's good.

This is the considered opinion of Mae West, who suggests she knows men best. In an interview Thursday, the seemingly ageless symbol of sex said there is a possible exception to her appraisal of the male species.

That would be the gentleman who telephoned her in the Presidential Suite of the St. Francis Hotel and informed her that CBS had canceled her appearance — scheduled for tonight — on television's Person to Person show.

The show was taped earlier in her luxurious Hollywood apartment. In it the famed show business star responded to questions by Charles Collingwood, subbing for Edward R. Murrow.

She said a CBS official, whose name she didn't catch, told her certain parts of the show were "questionable." In Hollywood, a network spokesman termed them as "too hot to handle."

"I just can't imagine why they would cancel the show," Mae told San Francisco newsmen. "The gentleman said when he called that he hoped I wouldn't be disappointed. Well, of course — but I'm sure my public will be more disappointed."

In her place tonight will be Mr. and Mrs. James Mason, film folk.

Mae said the cancellation was a complete surprise. She had come to San Francisco to plug her latest book — her memoirs: "Goodness Had Nothing to Do With."

The tape was seen by newsmen in New York. Afterward, a CBS spokesman said nothing in specific was objectionable but that parts of the show "might be misinterpreted."

Mae added this note: "And I was dressed modestly — in a full length black gown. Not low cut."

How Can I

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I add colors to the fire in my woodburning fireplace?

A. Various colors can be added by use of powdered chemicals. Copper chloride produces a bluish-green flame, barium nitrate an apple green flame, calcium chloride an orange flame, sodium chlorate or potassium nitrate a yellow flame, and lithium chloride a purple flame. Tie about a half-ounce of your favorite color of the chemicals in a cellophane bag and toss onto the logs of the fireplace.

Q. How can I clean fabrikoid, the substitute light-weight leather?

A. This can be cleaned by wiping with a damp cloth or suds made with soap or a detergent. Rinse, and wipe dry.

Q. How can I sweeten lemonade quickly?

A. Dissolve the sugar in hot water before adding to the lemonade. It will sweeten quickly and will not sink to the bottom. A little seltzer in a glass of lemonade improves it and is very refreshing.

Commissioners Await Hearing At Columbus

LISBON—Columbiana County Commissioners expect to attend a Public Utilities Commission hearing Tuesday in Columbus over a request for automatic blinker lights at the Pennsylvania Railroad crossing on Route 172 at Moultrie in West Township.

Former county commissioners requested the protection but the railroad refused, citing the small amount of highway traffic over the crossing.

U.S. Mediator To Seek Peace In Glass Strike

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Federal Mediator William Rose was slated to meet with the American Flint Glass Workers Union and the Glass Container Manufacturers Institute again today in an effort to settle the 33-day-old glass strike.

Union and industry representatives met separately Thursday at Rose's suggestion to reassess their hard-set positions in the walkout of some 2,000 moldmakers against 81 plants across the nation.

Wages and arbitration procedure continued to be the main stumbling blocks in negotiations, said Rose. The union seeks a five per cent general wage hike. Industry has offered a three per cent increase. Moldmakers averaged $2.80 an hour under an old contract.

U.S. Will Fire Research Rockets

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States plans to fire a salvo of 10 research rockets—some as high as 1,000 miles — during one week in November.

The 10 launchings will be the U.S. contribution to International Rocket Week, Nov. 16 to 22.

The research rockets will include four from Wallops Island, Va., one possibly to light the whole Eastern Seaboard with a sodium fire.

There will be three from Fort Churchill, on Hudson Bay in Canada; two from Eglin Air Force Base, Fla.; and one from White Sands, N.M.

The rocket series is the highlight of the U.S. program for International Geophysical Cooperation-1959. This is a continuation of the International Geophysical Year of 1957-58. The National Academy of Sciences announced the plans Thursday night.

Ore Tonnage Down

CLEVELAND (AP)—Tonnage of the American iron ore fleet on the Great Lakes was only 15.61 per cent of capacity during the month which ended Thursday, compared with 77.02 per cent during the corresponding month last year.

This was reported Thursday by the vessel department of the M.A. Hanna Co., which said only 44 boats, or 18.26 per cent of the total of 241, were operating last month. This compared with 72.58 per cent during the month ended Oct. 15, 1958, or 180 of the 248 boats then on the lakes.

Can Collective Bargaining Work?

All the evidence of the steel strike is negative on the issue of whether collective bargaining can be made to work.

There was a breakdown of bargaining in the steel negotiations. The union and the companies failed the test that President Eisenhower said they were undergoing.

When the inquiry board finally was called in to see what it could do about the deadlock, its chairman, George W. Taylor, said it learned to its astonishment that the issues in the steel industry's longest strike hadn't even been defined, though negotiators had been meeting since May.

When the strike began in July, the omen for agreement was dark. That was when the White House warned collective bargaining was undergoing a test.

The looming question in October is not alone how to keep the country from being paralyzed by the prolonged stoppage in steel but also how to keep the country from being crippled indefinitely by breakdowns in collective bargaining in other industries.

DOCKWORKERS on the East Coast have had to be ordered back to their jobs to relieve port tieups that had created an emergency. There have been deadlocks in steel and copper. When auto contracts expire next year, the country will be lucky to escape without another crippling blow.

Everybody wants to believe collective bargaining can work, but optimists are short of proof.

For once, no one is in a position to claim he has a solution. The breakdown has been caused by more than a flaw in collective bargaining.

A major fault has been revealed.

Collective bargaining can work successfully only if both parties have the same purpose in mind — to work out mutually advantageous agreements that will enable them to work together.

Both parties, to do this, must think of bargaining as a negotiation between partners in an enterprise that enables them to work and prosper.

If they think of themselves, instead, as foes in a skirmish of class warfare, what started out to be collective bargaining turns into a war of attrition, in which one side must be worn down before there can be a truce.

Bargaining turns into a test of power and stubborn determination, when it should be a quest for agreement.

IT WILL BE a sad day for free enterprise if the United States must throw in the towel in its fight to preserve self-determination in the industrial era.

It will be a hard blow to confidence in the principle of free choice in decisions on the industrial contract if the people's only recourse is to put a limit on free choice in bargaining.

The alternative, however, is to say that the United States is at the mercy of every deadlock that may occur in bargaining; that it lacks the right or the power to help itself.

The problem will come before Congress when it reconvenes next January. Whether it will take the form of an acute problem to be solved in haste or a chronic problem to be discussed at length and then set aside for further consideration at some later date will depend on the outcome in steel this October.

IF THE ONLY way the nation can get off the floor is to fight its way up with a Taft-Hartley injunction to make the steel industry produce for 80 days, the problem will be acute next January when the injunction has run out and the steel industry goes back on strike — if that is what it really intends to do in the absence of a settlement this October.

If You Wait, You See Everything

Chances are you hadn't thought about Frances Perkins for a long time, either. She spoke in Cleveland last Wednesday.

Children should be permitted to get rid of some of their excess steam doing useful work, she said.

To make this possible, some ill-advised laws that were passed to make it impossible for children to do useful work should be repealed, she said.

Work, in her opinion, could help get rid of some of the juvenile delinquency that plagues the country. Not all boys and girls are interested in scholarship, she pointed out. Some turn to physical energy, instead — and not all of them can be harnessed up like football players.

In a word, some of the social legislation that has kept adolescents from going to work should be repealed. Society has made the mistake of over-protecting children, with the net result that it has under-protected itself against the misuse of their energy.

What makes this unusual is that Frances Perkins, now 77, was the first woman cabinet member. She was Franklin D. Roosevelt's secretary of labor, a post she was asked to fill because she had been a front-line social worker and reformer in New York City. Some of the realists of those New Dealing days were rough on her. But she stayed until Harry Truman came on.

One of her chief projects was child labor legislation. Lawmakers had reacted violently from scandals about exploitation of women and children workers in the sweatshops of New York. She had reacted violently too.

As always happens, reaction, itself, produced a reaction. It turned loose hordes of young people with nothing useful to do with their time and energy. Thousands have taken up hoodlumism to keep busy. That is what the former secretary of labor would like to correct by modifying laws originally passed to keep child labor from being abused.

If you wait long enough, you see everything. It's good to know that Miss Perkins and her three-cornered hat are still with us. It may be the same hat for all we know, but there have been alterations in the wearer.

The Price Of Justice

One of the greatest incentives to safe driving for Columbiana County motorists will go into effect Nov. 6 when the jurisdiction of State Highway Patrol cases is transferred out of mayors courts to the County Judges.

County officials are currently attempting to solve the headache handed them in the indecisive measure approved by the General Assembly.

First, the county must appoint and pay for deputy clerks for the three judges to aid in handling the increased court traffic.

Next, some arrangement must be worked out to permit arrested motorists to post bond with some authorized official when the judges are not on duty. Also, provision must be made for jailing violators charged with drivnig while drunk or other serious citations.

Because the Courts are located at Lisbon, Salem and East Palestine, the motorist cited in St. Clair, Madison, Yellow Creek, Washington or other southern townships faces a long drive to obtain the benefit of a hearing.

Furthermore, the time spent by patrolmen traveling to and from such distant court hearings will cut into patrol duties elsewhere.

It is to be hoped that a fair and not too costly system of hearing patrol cases will be worked out so that the price of justice for county taxpayers will be just.

In any event, the inconvenience evident in the system at present should encourage all motorists to hew closely to the code of good driving. . .

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

State legislatures and a congressional committee are probing high cost of drugs.

Pills have become a symbol of luxury living. People used to classify the rich man by saying, "He has a yacht." Now they say, "He's so well off he can fill a medicine cabinet." Drug makers rather than druggists are to blame. Probe format:

Q.—You know the aim of this inquiry?

A.—I know the aim but I am not certain of the ammunition.

Q.—You are in the drug-producing business?

A.—Yes, and I wish I had a pill to cure your curiosity.

Q.—Is it true you call them wonder drugs because you wonder how people can afford them?

A.—Why don't you try some?

Q.—I can't afford to be sick in the upper brackets. Why is a pill on the same price level as jewelry and mink, and isn't it true that a visit to the family druggist is like an adventure in high finance?

A.—You can always tear up a prescription and buy bubble gum, cigarettes or a birthday card. Drugs are produced after costly research, experimentation and years of laboratory development. We spend millions before a new remedy is put on the market. Many ailments once serious are now easily cured.

Q.—Yes, but doesn't the cost make the patient sicker than ever. New pills come out so fast my medicine chest gets loaded. How about a trade-in system under which a patient can bring in an old capsule and get an allowance on a new model?

A.—I think you are joking.

Investigator.—You wouldn't if you could see all the pills I have in stock, slightly used.

Q.—When a man is sick and can get something to cure him he doesn't argue over the price, does he?

A.—After paying for the pills he doesn't have enough strength left to squawk!

Steel Would End 'Past Practice'

By Victor Riesel

It would take all available Univacs laid end to end from Manhattan's financial capital to Pittsburgh's steel capital to explain what provoked steelworkers union chief Dave McDonald to thunder emotionally: "The management will get that over my dead body." McDonald, talking to President Eisenhower's fact-finding board, was referring to an unknown world peopled by ingot tracers, spectrographic technicians, hot bed inspectors, burners, hookers, test preparers, lubrication system tenders, conditioning yard cranemen and chemical analysts — the men who go into the hot mills to make America's steel.

Victor Riesel

What McDonald was shouting was that the steel companies would never get the sole right to shift these men about, assign them work, lay them off for a while, or promote some of them and not others.

WHAT THE COMPANIES have been saying is that the industry's inability to shift men on an efficiently modern basis costs the steel firms some 80 million dollars a year. That's what they have been arguing about. That's the story behind the grimmest industrial battle since the CIO imported French fashions in strikes during the sitdown years.

No one has ever attempted to explain this to the layman in jargon uncluttered by the almost incomprehensible lexicon of steel contracts. It is so complex that even those who write the contracts can't understand what they've agreed to. I'll try:

Basically the union says it wants to continue "past practices." That's the key phrase. The companies started to battle this in 1947. The fight went on for five years. In August 1952, the late Phil Murray and U.S. Steel's Jack Stephens jointly signed a letter explaining each other's rights. That letter settled nothing.

Why? For example, one of the first important cases, according to the truly erudite Sylvester Garrett, chairman of the board of arbitration of the U. S. Steel Co., and United Steelworkers, was the dispute of the narrow gauge railroad engineers and brakemen. These men run the small freight trains in and around the big steel mills.

FREQUENTLY locomotives broke down or needed repairs. The company would shift the idle engineers and brakemen to other work, the pay for which was less than running the locomotives. However, the railroad men continued to receive their regular wages.

The company discontinued the use of higher paid men on low paying jobs in 1947. The union said that the company couldn't do this. Why? Because it had been "past practice." The arbitration board was called in.

There were other disputes. A big fight developed in 1952. The company was furious when the arbitrators ruled that the union had the right to insist on arbitration when the firm assigned men to jobs. In other words, it was established that the union had the right to say that it objected to the company's selection of men for different tasks.

There was another case. The union under the old contract had the right to prevent the industry from changing a practice under which some men could knock off before the end of their eight-hour shift if they had completed their work. The company wanted to use them elsewhere as long as it was paying for a full eight-hour turn.

THE UNION also had the right, too, to object to a change in a practice in training apprentices. In the past, the time an apprentice spent on vacation was included in his actual training hours. The company wanted this changed. The union said no.

Also let me tell you about men called test preparers. They work in the basement of the chemical laboratory preparing steel and iron samples for the lab upstairs. During the recession the company shut down some of its furnaces. It wanted to lay off its test preparers and have the men upstairs do the work.

The company said let the "spectographic technicians" do the testing, but first it had to consult the union for an okay. In each case the union would refer to past practices. The company would say past practices were obsolete or uneconomical.

There are thousands of such cases. Not dramatic. Just a few men here, a few dollars there. But with 500,000 men in a thousand mills each case adds up — adds up to the woe in which the steel workers, the steel makers, the public and the President of the United States have found themselves.

Something To Remember

By Truman Twill

There's a letter I write each year in October to my sons. But in recent years they haven't been getting the letter. It never is mailed.

They don't need to read it anymore. If they are going to take it seriously, they've had plenty of opportunities. Otherwise, it would make them suspect the old boy is getting pottier.

What I want to do is remind them they should do something about the privilege of going to football games on Saturday afternoons in October when the distant hills look blue and the campus maples are ablaze.

I have in mind, really, that they should understand while doing this that going to a football game in their country is like going to a bullfight in Spain. It is being part of a pageant of such magnitude that the actors and the audience are indistinguishable from each other.

Even the football players on the field cannot claim to be unique, because every player in the stands and on the sidelines is with them in spirit. Or don't they know that old football players never sit still; that they lunge and sidestep and fall as they watch the scrimmage?

I have in mind, too, that they should exercise a free option about whether to take a spruce - looking girl with a chrysanthemum pinned on her with them, though I favor the girl. Nothing sets up a knowledgeable boy like a girl with tact enough to let him explain the fine points of the football pageant as it unfolds.

It is part of my prospectus, also, that the pageant should not stop at the end of the fourth quarter but should continue to unfold during a campus stroll among the acrid mist of burning leaves and the sis-boom-bah sound effects that always go on somewhere in the distance after a football game.

There should be, as well, a dining out and thereafter a dancing, with time out for whatever costume changes may be required. The bullfighters and the football players change costume so why not all other members of the cast?

And there would be moonlight and more chrysanthemums. There would be friendship, tall tales, banter, practical jokes, remembered music, sweet talk and all the things that are cherishable decade in and decade out, long after theorems, propositions, laws, rules, precepts and admonishments of education have been mossed over.

It occurred to me when my sons were still of pre-kindergarten age, that if they didn't have enough wit to savor such things when their time came to do so I would beat the privilege into them with a stick. And I tried.

But they don't get the letters I write about this any more, because privilege cannot be beaten into anyone with a stick. Privilege is a sense, not a condition. Its beneficiary must feel privilege from the inside out.

I have tried from time to time to take part in the football pageant in recent years, but I flub the part. I'm only a spectator now, much as I'd like to be part of the act.

Everybody is doomed to be a spectator eventually, I suppose, which is why it's a shame when anyone eligible for actorship thinks there ever could be anything more important to do on a Saturday afternoon in October when there's a football game within striving distance.

What could be more important than that? What's in books that can match what needs to be remembered in the heart as the years roll by?

Saucers Nosedive

The U.S. Air Force, which doesn't believe in flying saucers, reports that there have been fewer of them around in 1959 than anytime in recent years.

But the Air Force is getting ready just in case a real one should someday pop up.

These facts came to light with the issuance of a new regulation on the subject — AFR 200-2. It revealed that in 12 years of checking thousands of reported sightings not one one unidentified flying object (UFO) turned out to be a real flying saucer.

Signs are that 1959 will be a very bad year for saucer sighters. The Air Force reported it received only 143 flying-saucer reports during the first six months of this year—a 50 per cent drop from the previous six-month total of 296. Of the 143, Air Force investigations proved 140 to be balloons, aircraft, astronomical phenomena, birds, searchlights and hoaxes.

According to AFR 200-2, only three sightings, or 2.09 per cent, have not yet been identified at all.

The new regulation sets up standard operating procedure for dealing with UFO's. Main objectives are listed as: to guard the security of the United States, determine technical and scientific characteristics of any UFO, and explain and identify all UFO sightings.

While Air Force headquarters disclaimed any belief in existing operational UFO's, it is preparing air bases for any eventuality — including the "possible development of true unknowns."

No Bargaining Link

By David Lawrence

'Pre-Conditions' Stymie Steel Agreement

A tragedy in American economic life is unfolding before the country. Two big and powerful economic forces have come to grips in the steel strike, all the influences of reason and self - restraint have thus far not been able to produce a settlement, primarily because there is no effective communication between the two sides. The federal government has stepped in to attempt to bring about some form of communication — some discussion that is concrete and tangible and devoid of the sparring that so often characterizes collective bargaining.

David Lawrence

If what has happened is a sample of what the American people are up against in the battle of big unionism versus big business, a grave situation confronts the nation.

The fact-finding board appointed by President Eisenhower, under the chairmanship of George W. Taylor of the University of Pennsylvania, an experienced arbitrator in labor disputes, already has found one depressing fact. Neither side is willing to negotiate unless certain conditions are met first.

Management, according to Dr. Taylor, has been unwilling to negotiate on any wage demand that would raise steel production costs by more than 2 per cent.

Labor has been adamant in demanding that there should be no change in contract provisions regarding "work rules."

This is the basis of the deadlock that has persisted through the strike.

IN OTHER years, the employers have usually surrendered. This has caused labor-union leaders to assume that if they hold out long enough now there will be another surrender.

But this time it is apparent the steel companies can't surrender because they know they don't dare risk raising steel prices, especially in the face of foreign competition. They know also that, if the steel settlement sets in motion a general raise in wages and prices in other industries, the net result will be to boost the costs of materials and other products bought by steel companies.

The Steelworkers Union is in a weaker position than usual because the strike has been costly to their members and, as it looks now, an 80-day injunction under the Taft-Hartley Act will be invoked.

It is all well enough for union leaders to say they'll strike again at the end of the 80 days, but they don't really mean it.

The end of the 80 days will come in midwinter, at a time when Congress will be in session. The result might be the enactment of legislation along the lines of compulsory arbitration which the union does not want.

WHY CAN'T an agreement be negotiated by reasonable men? Dr. Taylor, at the board's hearing, demanded of steelworkers president David McDonald, to say whether the union's position on wages was "negotiable." When he answered, "Yes," the employer representative, R. Conrad Cooper, said:

"We have come all this way for Mr. McDonald to say his wage demands are negotiable. It has not been so in the meetings we have had."

Strictly speaking, the union can say now it has been willing to "negotiate" and be consistent with what it has said before, but there has always been attached an additional condition that "work rules" must not be touched.

Each side has been insisting on "preconditions." This means an offer is conditioned on a concession in another category of demands.

Thus, collective bargaining has been supplanted by a deadlock in which both sides remain firm. Mediation by the federal government's trained mediators has failed. It always will fail if there is no compelling reason to make one side, or the other side, or both, negotiate in earnest.

Must the public wait till one side wears out the other? The public interest is already threatened by the steel strike, and it can be much worse if the Great Lakes freeze and iron ore shipments from Minnesota and Michigan are unavailable for replenishing low stocks in the plants.

DR. TAYLOR doesn't describe his efforts as "mediation" because technically that is a task for the Federal Mediation Service. But, realistically, informal mediation is being undertaken by Dr. Taylor and the other two members of the fact-finding board.

Its a tough job, and the effort would not necessarily be suspended if Taft-Hartley injunctions were granted. Public opinion will play a part in influencing both sides to come to terms.

If this strike cannot be settled across the table the days of collective bargaining may be numbered for big industries. Some form of compulsory arbitration to supplement voluntary arbitration on certain issues may be required of labor unions and management whenever the national interest is threatened with damage by prolonged strikes.

Critical Food Situation

By William L. Ryan

Natural calamities and other factors have combined to create a critical food situation in Red China. The Peiping government is instituting measures which have the look of rigid food rationing.

This information is gleaned from the official newspaper of the Chinese Communist party, the People's Daily. It has just announced details of what the party calls a "plan for food consumption and economizing in food consumption."

While the party paper insists the food outlook in China is favorable, it acknowledges that it has undertaken a "shock publicity campaign" to cut down excessive consumption. Party members have undertaken to "explain the truth to the masses."

"They have raised the consciousness of the masses and extensively disseminated throughout all households the call of the party for the practice of economy in food consumption," the paper says. "Many refectories (public dining halls) and families have taken the initiative to draft their plans to economize in food consumption.

"Economy in food has thus become the social fashion. In preparing meals they have blended course and fine food grains, adjusted the cooking of food grains for both thin and thick mixtures, distinguished between greater and lesser consumption of meals, and rationed consumption according to the number of persons."

The party has directed that after the autumn harvest, these measures must be adopted in all areas.

The party blames its food woes in part on the number of natural disasters — floods and droughts — which ravaged many areas in Red China during the summer. But there are other factors.

One of the most important of these must be the shift of populations from rural areas to the cities in the intensive drive of the Red Chinese to industrialize at breakneck speed.

It is also more than possible that the commune system forced upon the farm communities has further interfered with farm production. There has been much reason to suppose that the regimentation of the Chinese farmers has met with serious resistance.

So the Communist party is faced with this situation: The autumn harvest probably will mean a barely adequate supply of food for the fall and winter months, but there is little reserve to fall back upon next spring and summer, when the food situation can become so troublesome as to deserve the term crisis.

The county PTA Council is sponsoring the instruction at the McDonald School at Wellsville in a move to provide new ideas and fresh viewpoints on parent and teacher activities and duties, Mrs. Betty Whelan of Salineville, president, said.

Harlan Diehr of Wooster, state PTA juvenile protection chairman, will direct a workshop on ways and means and budget and finance.

Mrs. Elmer James of Alliance, east district PTA director, will be in charge of the workshop on duties of officers, by - laws, procedures and the Council.

The school will be the first sponsored in the past two years by the council, which was organized in 1948.

She said the executive heads, superintendents and principals in the county and city school districts have been asked to attend.

"This school of instruction is open to all teachers and principals interested in the betterment of the schools," she declared. The meeting will begin at 8 (EST).

Slag Cleanup Due Following End Of St. Clair Project

Scheduled to complete work early this afternoon on sealcoating of outer St. Clair Ave., street department crews will turn next to removal of excess slag spread atop the fresh asphalt, Mayor Fred P. Lawrence said.

The workers will use brooms to collect the extra slag, then shovel it onto trucks, the mayor said. Removing the slag will cut down the possibility of dust and also will help remove the hazard of an auto skidding on the loose material, he explained.

Street Supt. W. M. Laughlin estimated the sealcoating work, launched Tuesday, would be completed shortly after noon. When the job resumed this morning, the only untreated portion extended from Armstrong Ln. to the city limits near Cain St.

The work was interrupted briefly Thursday when the supply of asphalt was exhausted. A new supply was obtained, meanwhile, from a firm in Monaca.

Excess slag is routine in any sealcoating job, Laughlin said.

"There's always some of the slag that doesn't bind with the asphalt and it must be removed," he said.

Cites Air Pollution

CINCINNATI (AP)—A Chicago industrial engineer says he thinks rising worry about air pollution will force cities to pass laws creating zones for industry. Dr. W. C. McCone Jr. told an air pollution conference Thursday that laws might be set up to assign sites to industry on the basis of how well the firms filter out air pollutants as well as the nearness to residential area, atmospheric conditions and other factors.

Hearing Delayed In Tank Mishap

Non-appearance of prosecution witnesses forced a continuance until 2:30 this afternoon in a scheduled Municipal Court hearing for Sgt. Donald K. Glass, 27, of Laurel Heights, Chester, an Army Reservist cited by the State Highway Patrol after a tank-auto collision Sept. 7 on the Campground Rd.

The case was set for 9 this morning before Judge George L. Brokaw, but was delayed to await the arrival of State Highway Patrol witnesses and Mrs. Catherine Martin, 120 W. Drury Ln., the city "Meter Maid" whose car was involved in the crash. When the witnesses still had not appeared nearly two hours later, the judge agreed to a suggestion from Assistant Solicitor Richard J. Clark to continue the case until this afternoon.

Sgt. Glass appeared, along with his commanding officer, Lt. John Markanton, and Atty. George Morrison of the U. S. attorney's office at Cleveland, representing the defense. Sgt. Glass was accused of failure to yield at least half the highway to the auto.

It was emphasized area residents should use the fire alarm telephone, FU 5-5627, for emergencies only. For ordinary information calls, residents should use the other telephone at the fire station, FU 6-5109.

Frank Rizer, secretary, presided at the meeting attended by 20. The next meeting will be Oct. 29.

Charles Mundy was elected vice president; Donald Hirst, secretary, and Eugene Yohst, treasurer. Paul Blackburn, Orvel Tolson and Orville Madison were named to the Board of Directors.

About 30 attended the meeting at which plans were discussed for a Halloween parade Oct. 30, the fourth annual pancake supper Dec. 5 and for solicitation of funds for Christmas street lighting to be erected by the club.

Floyd Lower of Lisbon, Ohio District Ruritan governor, was a guest. The next meeting will be Nov. 19.

Corn Price Prop Remains At $1.21

LISBON — The price support on the 1959 corn crop in Columbiana County will remain at $1.21 a bushel, unchanged from the minimum rate announced several weeks ago, Earl Lora of the county Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation committe office announced today.

As provided by law, the support price reflects 90 percent of the average price of $1.25 per bushel received by farmers for corn during the three calendar years 1956-58.

A minimum price was announced in February as a guide to farmers in advance of planting, subject to reassessment at the beginning of the marketing year. Current information indicates no change in the rate, Lora said.

Under the present corn program, there are no acreage allotments and corn produced anywhere in the United States in 1959, that meets quality and storage requirements, is eligible for support at the same national average level, with adjustments for grade, quality, location and other factors.

As in past programs, corn will be supported through loans and purchase agreements available from harvest time through May 31, 1960. Loans will mature July 31, 1960, Lora said.

Gov. Brown Weighs Case

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — "That's it and I'll do a lot of praying." With those words, Gov. Edmund G. Brown closed a three-hour clemency hearing Thursday that may mean life or death for Caryl Chessman.

Brown opposes capital punishment. He spoke of the scheduled execution of the 38-year-old convict-author a week from today as "that Roman holiday."

But the governor gave no hint whether he'll commute the death sentence to life behind bars — without hope of parole — or let Chessman die in the San Quentin gas chamber.

Brown said he would announce his decision before Monday. Noting Chessman's 11½ years in death row, he said, "I'm going to make a ruling one way or another and then I'm through."

Chessman, in a letter last week, demanded "vindication or death." His attorneys, however, pleaded for a commutation.

Chessman was convicted in 1948 as a Los Angeles lovers' lane bandit who forced two girls into acts of sexual depravity. He got the death penalty on two counts of kidnaping for robbery with bodily harm.

Brown made it clear at the outset he's convinced Chessman committed those crimes. Chessman, in his long fight in the courts and in his prison-written books, has insisted he was innocent.

The defense's big point was that Chessman was condemned on a technical charge of kidnaping and that he didn't kill anyone.

But Chessman's prosecutor, Deputy Dist. Atty. J. Miller Leavy of Los Angeles, called the mental hospital commitment of one of Chessman's victims — a 17-year-old girl — a living death.

"This bothers me," Brown interjected.

"Would not 11½ years in death row plus life imprisonment ... would not that satisfy the ends of justice in this matter rather than have that Roman holiday at San Quentin next Friday?"

"Not in my opinion," Leavy replied.

Chessman's attorneys have succeeded in staving off six execution dates.

Davis planned to file a new appeal before the United States Supreme Court today.

Bowling Green Can Take 1st Place In Conference

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's college football teams will be playing for big stakes this weekend.

First place in four Buckeye conferences hangs in the balance as Ohio gridders plunge into an attractive 23-game program.

Unbeaten Ohio University (3-0) starts the action rolling with a non-conference game at Youngstown (4-1) tonight.

Bowling Green (3-0) gets a chance Saturday to take over undisputed possession of first place in the Mid-American Conference. The Falcons, 2-0 in the loop and tied for the top spot with Ohio U., are favored to whip Toledo.

Findlay and Bluffton, both 2-0 in the Mid-Ohio League, clash in a battle for first place in that six-team circuit.

In the Presidents' Conference, Wayne State (2-0) goes against John Carroll (1-0) while Western Reserve (2-0) is pitted against Northern Michigan in a non-conference scrap.

There are two big ones on tap in the 14-member Ohio Conference. Unbeaten Capital and its ace scorer Al White tangle with tough Muskingum. The Muskies, 3-1 in loop competition, pose a major threat to Cap's hopes for a title.

Another Ohio Conference headliner pits Akron (3-1) and Wooster (3-0) in a game at Wooster. The Zips upended previously beaten Heidelberg last week and have designs on first place.

Ohio State, blanked in its last two outings, will be out to break a two-game losing streak when Purdue comes to town. The Buckeyes are a one-touchdown underdog.

Cincinnati (2-2) journeys to Wichita, Miami (2-1) takes on Villanova, Dayton (1-3) visits Louisville and Xavier (3-2) plays at Detroit.

Other games:

Mid-American Conference—Kent State at Marshall.

Gov. Brown Weighs Case

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — "That's it and I'll do a lot of praying." With those words, Gov. Edmund G. Brown closed a three-hour clemency hearing Thursday that may mean life or death for Caryl Chessman.

Brown opposes capital punishment. He spoke of the scheduled execution of the 38-year-old convict-author a week from today as "that Roman holiday."

But the governor gave no hint whether he'll commute the death sentence to life behind bars — without hope of parole — or let Chessman die in the San Quentin gas chamber.

Brown said he would announce his decision before Monday. Noting Chessman's 11½ years in death row, he said, "I'm going to make a ruling one way or another and then I'm through."

Chessman, in a letter last week, demanded "vindication or death." His attorneys, however, pleaded for a commutation.

Chessman was convicted in 1948 as a Los Angeles lovers' lane bandit who forced two girls into acts of sexual depravity. He got the death penalty on two counts of kidnaping for robbery with bodily harm.

Brown made it clear at the outset he's convinced Chessman committed those crimes. Chessman, in his long fight in the courts and in his prison-written books, has insisted he was innocent.

The defense's big point was that Chessman was condemned on a technical charge of kidnaping and that he didn't kill anyone.

But Chessman's prosecutor, Deputy Dist. Atty. J. Miller Leavy of Los Angeles, called the mental hospital commitment of one of Chessman's victims — a 17-year-old girl — a living death.

"This bothers me," Brown interjected.

"Would not 11½ years in death row plus life imprisonment . . . would not that satisfy the ends of justice in this matter rather than have that Roman holiday at San Quentin next Friday?"

"Not in my opinion," Leavy replied.

Chessman's attorneys have succeeded in staving off six execution dates.

Davis planned to file a new appeal before the United States Supreme Court today.

First place in four Buckeye conferences hangs in the balance as Ohio gridders plunge into an attractive 23-game program.

Unbeaten Ohio University (3-0) starts the action rolling with a non-conference game at Youngstown (4-1) tonight.

Considereed Noninflationary

Reuther, Other Officers Boosted In Pay By UAW

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — The United Auto Workers convention has given President Walter P. Reuther and other officers pay raises based on a formula which the union considers noninflationary.

The convention voted by a substantial margin Thursday 3 per cent salary increases each year for the next three years. In the auto industry, UAW members get comparable increases each year. They are based on the theory that the industry's productivity increases about 3 per cent each year.

But the delegates by a close vote rejected a proposal to give union officers cost-of-living increases in addition to the 3 per cent annual improvement. Production workers get increases if the cost of living goes up.

Reuther gets $22,000 a year. He was given a $2,000 raise two years ago.

In recommending the 3 per cent increase, Harry Southwell, of Detroit, president of the Constitution Committee, said heads of the Steelworkers and the Teamsters made $50,000 and the committee felt its recommendation was modest.

Before voting to raise salaries, the convention gave Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn) a big ovation after he attacked the Eisenhower administration as reactionary and praised the political action program of the UAW.

The 15-minute demonstration for Humphrey, who appeared as a potential candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1960, was the most enthusiastic given any speaker at the eight-day convention.

Fortunate Woman

CINCINNATI (AP)—It was only a few weeks ago that Mrs. Herbert E. Keller gave a box of face tissue to a stranger who stopped and asked for aid for an ill child. Mrs. Keller didn't know the box also held $210 her husband had hid there. But makers of the tissue heard the story. Thursday a company official stopped here to give the Kellers a check for $210—and a new boox of tissue.

It was announced that dues are to be paid to Gary Hicks, scribe, as soon as possible. An insurance plan is to be adopted by the chapter this year.

Darrel Smith, master councilor, said boys between 14 and 21 are eligible for membership in the chapter.

Homer D. Hoffman, "dad advisor," announced that three members have completed their preliminary survey for the Representative DeMolay (R.D.) degree and are preparing final forms.

Happy Fable of the "Rubbage Ridder"

In the Dark Ages Householders (usually The Woman) performed a Frequent Ritual known as "Canning the GARBAGE" and a Weekly Bit Wherein Man responded to the cry ". . . Heavens sake Get RID of that RUBBISH." What he did was Messy and Dangerous to Health and Safety. "Scorching the Rubbish" took you out in the cold, or it interfered with Watching the Ball Game. It also Smelled Up the Neighborhood and created a Fire Hazard. Man finally got Fed Up with the Old Routine, so he invented an Appliance like a Small Gas Furnace. The Gas Flame serves as an Ignitor and helps to provide an intense flame, consuming everything placed in the Insulated Chamber. (Only a few Pennies Worth of Gas.) . . . . . It will Dry and Consume GARBAGE with or without RUBBISH. Neatest Trick is the down-draft which draws all Fumes through a GAS "Afterburner" where they are Done Away With . . . . . SO, No Smoke or Smell. Demonstrating to his Wife the Inventor explained . . . "You just put ALL RUBBISH and GARBAGE in here." "Then you've got Rubbage," she quipped. Undaunted, he flicked the Gas Lighter Flame. Moments later, not even "Rubbage", just a little heap of Dry Ash.  "The easiest Riddance of a Week's Rubbage I ever saw," she admitted. "Why not call it a 'Rubbage Ridder'?" But the VP in Charge of Calling It insists that the Word be In-cin-er-a-tor, meaning "Clean Burning". . . So-o-o. Whatever YOU call it, IT DOES GET RID OF RUBBISH AND GARBAGE THE EASY WAY. Ask your dealer to show you the Latest Type Incinerators with Fume Consuming Draft arrangement that insures — Smokeless, Odorless operation in Commercial or Home sizes. Between Estranged Wife, Protege

Flynn's Funeral Services Developing Into Contest

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Errol Flynn's estranged third wife and his 17-year-old protege are both determined to take charge of his funeral services in Hollywood.

Patrice Wymore flew here Thursday from Washington to arrange the final rites for the swashbuckling actor, who died of a heart attack in Vancouver, B.C., Wednesday night.

Asked where Flynn would be buried, the pale, trembling Miss Wymore said she is making arrangements to have the body brought to Hollywood.

But blonde Beverly Aadland, who was with the actor when he died in Vancouver, apparently intends to contest Miss Wymore's rights. She said she and the 50-year-old Flynn planned to marry and live in Jamaica after he obtained his divorce.

Her mother Florence Aadland said Beverly would bring Flynn's body back to Hollywood.

Miss Wymore, estranged from Flynn for two years, declined to comment on the girl's plans, aside from saying: "She seems to be very busy."

She said that in addition to her plans for Hollywood funeral for Flynn she may arrange memorial rites in Jamaica, which Flynn regarded as his home.

Vancouver crowds flocked to the mortuary to get a glimpse of Flynn's body. Police had to lock the building.

An autopsy showed Flynn had died of coronary thrombosis. The coroner said examination showed hardening of the arteries, fatty degeneration of the liver, and an infection of the lower intestine.

"His was the body of a tired, old man—old before his time, and sick," the coroner said.

Despite Steel Strike

Industrial Output Down Slightly, Report Reveals

WASHINGTON (AP)—In spite of the steel strike, industrial production slipped only a little last month, the Federal Reserve Board says. But the walkout is having a greater impact in October.

As of mid-October, the board said Thursday, "inventories of steel were being rapidly deleted and output curtailments among steel-consuming industries were spreading.

For September, the index fell one point to 148 per cent of the 1947-49 average. This continued a steady decline from an all-time high of 155 in June.

During September, the board said, the steel strike caused some reduced activity in railroad equipment and shipbuilding industries.

A copper strike which began in August was holding down output in the nonferrous mining and manufacturing industries, the board said. But prestrike supplies were permitting most makers of machinery and consumer durable goods to keep up production.

Both durable and soft goods shared in the decline last month, it added, from August production levels. Among soft goods, further slight decreases were reported in textiles, apparel, rubber and petroleum.

The board also said volume of new autos in September increased less than usual from August, although output recovered rapidly from the low during the model changeover in early September. By October, however, the rise in auto production was limited by steel shortages.

Angler Still Trying To Reel In $6,230 That 'Slipped Away'

BALTIMORE (AP)—When Bill Simmons pulled in a fish worth $25,000 over a year ago, he dreamed of putting it up as a showpiece and the money in his pocket.

He still has Diamond Jim III mounted on the wall of his home, but he's trying to reel in $6,230 that slipped away.

The 31-year-old former longshoreman, who was jobless at the time, has put his lawyer to work to try to get it back from government tax collectors.

The question is: Was he trying to produce income or was he simply fishing for recreation?

Simmons caught the 10-pound rockfish under the Chesapeake Bay Bridge Aug. 6, 1958. A local brewery had tagged the fish and released it earlier in the year, offering $25,000 to the lucky fisherman who landed it.

When Simmons began spending the money, the Internal Revenue Service seized $6,230 last Oct. 29 to be sure of getting a share before income tax filing time.

Through his attorney, Sheldon Briaterman, Simmons argues that he was not looking for Diamond Jim III. He was just out for a good time and did not work for the $25,000. It therfore was windfall and not taxable, he contends.

Internal revenue officials haven't bitten on that one so far.

Briaterman tossed out another line. He reasoned that if going after a tagged fish is a business enterprise, every sportsman on the bay could say he is looking for Diamond Jim's annual successors.

So, they could deduct the expense of fishing trips in figuring income tax. And that, of course, could cost the government a lot more than $6,230 in revenue.

James Garfield was the youngest U. S. President to die in office. He was assassinated in 1881 at the age of 49.

Phone Tieup May Hit North County Area

A three-day walkout of long distance operators of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. at Youngstown ended today, but a dispute over the firing of an employe may result in a walkout of operators in Mahoning, northern Columbiana and Trumbull Counties.

Arnold Martin, president of Local 4300 of the Communications Workers of America, said Thursday members had voted 6-to-1 to strike. Sanction is being sought from the international union at Washington, Martin said.

The local represents 887 Bell operators in the three counties, including the Salem office which is the center for the East Palestine, Lisbon, Rogers, Leetonia and Columbiana exchanges.

Some 70 operators at Youngstown walked out Monday and remained off the job until Wednesday. The stoppage resulted in curtailment of long distance calls requiring operator assistance.

Direct dialing of out-of-town calls and local service were not affected.

Observation Period Set

CHARDON, Ohio (AP)—A Mentor man charged with rape and the attempted slaying of a Russell Township woman will spend 30 days under observation in Cleveland's Ingleside Hospital. James L. Spring, 24, appeared in Geauga County Common Pleas Court Thursday and was ordered to the hospital after pleading innocent by reason of insanity. He also is charged with rape in Lake County.

Quits Health Post

CHARDON, Ohio (AP) — Dr. William P. Edmunds Thursday announced his resignation as Geauga County health commissioner, effective March 15 or earlier if a successor is found. He said he had no plans "except to seek another climate away from Chardon."

Killed In Accident

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP)—A young man was killed Thursday night when his automobile hit a tractor-trailer and a bridge abutment and then burst into flames on Ohio 18 about three miles west of Wellington. The victim was identified as William E. Stegman, 19, of Rt. 1, New London, Ohio.

Quiz Scandal Shows TV's Moral Decline

Charles Van Doren may go down as the Shoeless Joe Jackson of his age. "Say it ain't so, Joe," is the plea on the lips of a million true believers while awaiting Charlie's reply.

John Crosby

But the trouble is I can't quite cast these quizlings in the role of the Black Sox players of 1919. Shoeless Joe Jackson was an authentic genius. There was an air of papier mache about all the quiz heroes — that shoemaker with the appealing face, the taxi driver who used to answer the questions before they were asked.

I am shocked not so much by the fact that these have proved to be false gods as by the fact that they got to be gods in the first place.

THERE IS NOT the slightest question but they were gods all right. Why? Because they were intellectuals and knew the gestation period of elephants (one of the questions asked potential candidates)? I doubt it. I think mostly because they were little people being propelled to fame and fortune overnight.

They were each a little Cinderella story, and it's hard to say which was the greater lure — the fame or the fortune. The money was good but I think maybe the fame was even more enticing in our fame-hungry world.

But therein lies the fraud on the populace. If they didn't truly possess this outlandish information, the public never would have made these shows so wildly popular and, if they weren't so wildly popular, they never would have been worth millions to the Lou Cowans who owned "$64,000 Question" and "$64,000 Challenge" and Barry & Enright who owned "21" which they sold for millions of dollars.

As usual, it's not the guy in the ring who makes the killing. It's the fixer outside.

-:-

THE MORAL SQUALOR of the quiz reaches clear through the whole industry and I do not see why Congress shouldn't pursue its investigations a little further.

If it did, Congressmen would discover that nothing is what it seems in television. Well, nothing apart from its news and public events shows.

No scandal ever has touched the honest and hard-working newsmen who are competent and incorruptible. Why are they so conscientious, men from the ad agencies are kept strictly out of the office.

This has given them an esprit de corps denied all the others. (The situation isn't perfect. The news guys would like far more voice than they have, more time, more money, more everything, but they're proud of what they do get on the air.)

-:-

BUT IN EVERYTHING else the heavy hand of the advertisers suffocates truth, corrupts men and women.

Rod Serling, one of TV's noted dramatists and author of "Requiem for a Heavyweight," tells of doing a TV play based on the Till case, the Mississippi lynching.

Somehow the victim became a foreigner from an undesignated country; the scene shifted to New England, last place in the world where it could happen, and the diatribe was directed at some vague, formless injustice that didn't merit the shouting.

The script, in short, became a lie. Rigged TV drama, rigged quiz shows.

People in the business say: "Yeah, but that's the way things are. Why fight City Hall?"

The feeling of high purpose, of manifest destiny that lit the industry when it was young, when the Ed Murrows and Fred Coes and Pat Weavers ran the show, when talent was all over the place, is long gone. The money changers are in the temple and the place has reeked of corruption for a long time.

-:-

THERE IS a feeling that corruption reaches into the highest echelons, into the trafficking for frequencies itself, and this has helped weaken the moral fibers in the lower echelons.

Why fight City Hall? The Federal Communications Commission has been touched with scandal in the granting of a license in Miami and certainly it cannot be accused of being either energetic or notoriously interested in the honesty of quiz shows or anything else.

The whole industry — who's in, who's out, who's rich, who's poor —rests insecurely on a rating system that is trusted by no one and is misused by everyone.

The worst crumbs in the business are now in the saddle and the best and most idealistic and creative men in the business either can't get work or they quit in disgust and go on to better things in the movies or the theater.

Perhaps the quiz mess is the Black Sox scandal of television and maybe it could be used to clean up the rest of the mess.

Court Denies Candidacy Bid

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court has denied Edgar J. Allen's request for approval of his candidacy for mayor of Willoughby. The Lake County Election Board had rejected his petitions.

But two other candidates for mayor of Willoughby and six for council won high court approval Thursday for places on the Nov. 3 ballot.

In the Allen case, the court held 6-1 that petitions were insufficient because the candidate acted as notary on four of his petition parts.

"Such insufficiency is not a mere technicality subject to correction after the statuatory filing date," the opinion said. "The petition is void for lack of a valid affidavit."

The court denied Thomas Hanna and other Willoughby residents a writ of prohibition to keep the names of Gar P. Pierce, candidate for mayor, and five hopefuls for council off ballots.

Council candidates in the suit are: Samuel E. Costello, at large; John R. Hager, Ward 3; Elwood H. Witt Sr., Ward 4; Hugh D. Pallister Jr., Ward 5, and John C. Rebbin, Ward 6.

The 6-0 decision said the candidates' petitions were valid and that the board did not abuse its discretion in validating the petitions.

In another 6-0 decision, the court ordered the board to place the name of Dominic Troy on ballots as candidate for mayor and Lee B. Pallerin as a candidate for council in Ward 2.

The board had rejected their petitions for failure to file acceptance of nomination as required by charter. But the court held that a declaration of candidacy is sufficient acceptance.

Judge Kingsley A. Taft dissented in the decision on Allen's mandamus request. Chief Justice Carl Weygandt was silent in the two other decisions.

Chamber Board Airs Yule Plans

Christmas activities, sponsored by the Midland Chamber of Commerce, were discussed by the Board of Directors Thursday afternoon at the Esquire Bar.

It was decided that Mike Hornick, Christmas lighting chairman, will work out a suitable contract with an electrical firm for hanging Yule lights from 4th St. to 9th St. on Midland Ave.

Donald Green, Christmas activities chairman, gave a report and the Christmas parade was set tentatively for Saturday, Nov. 28. He said Lincoln Hight School must be contacted for use of the school band.

On efforts to solve Midland school problems, Paul McGeehan reported that there has been no word from H. C. Elder, Beaver County School superintendent, about a meeting date with a Chamber committee.

Dr. T. S. Boyd, is president and chairman. Next meeting will be Nov. 12.

City Dentist Named Trustee Of TB Board

Dr. William Z. Sulkes, East Liverpool dentist, was appointed Thursday as trustee of the Tuberculosis Control Board by Columbiana County commissioners.

Sulkes succeeds Maurice Rapport, also of East Liverpool, who resigned.

Other board members are Jack Sanders of Salem and Atty. Robert Hartford of East Palestine.

Past Administrations Blamed For Ohio Hospital Conditions

MASSILLON, Ohio (AP)—Past state administrations and not the taxpayers or hospital officials are at fault for the overcrowding and lack of professional help at Ohio's hospitals for the mentally ill, Gov. Michael V. DiSalle said here Thursday.

The governor made a surprise visit to Massillon State Hospital—his 27th such visit to a state institution. He said that overcrowding and shortage of professional help are the state's primary problems at the mental hospitals.

Stating that these conditions are the fault of previous administrations, the governor said:

"You can't blame the taxpayer because who has told him about the problem?

"You can't blame the hospital officials, in most cases, because they have overcrowded conditions, a lack of adequate staffs and lack of funds."

The governor said the state has an organization problem to cure and "needs to educate itself to the problem." He said the problem now is not one of money.

DiSalle was told by Dr. M. B. Holmes, superintendent of the hospital, that the institution has 3,155 patients, but shouldn't have more than 2,200 and it has only 10 persons on the medical staff, but according to American Psychiatric Assn. standards it should have 34.

Dr. Holmes said 60 to 80 persons are admitted to the hospital each month, primarily from Probate Court or the Youngstown Receiving Hospital.

The governor said that since the Massillon hospital is older than most state institutions it has more problems, "but it is not as bad as some of the others."

The hospital, established in 1898, is located on a 1,200-acre tract on U. S. 21 south of here.

Potters Asked For Strike Aid

Potters have been asked to contribute an hour's wages each month to help the United Steelworkers in their three - month- old strike.

Contributions were asked today by the Executive Board of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters, following through on a recommendation made by a special committee of the Executive Council of the AFL-CIO.

They money will go into a Steelworkers Defense Fund, administered by William F. Schnitzler, secretary of the AFL-CIO. When the steel strike ends, any balance remaining will be transferred to a special defense fund "for the use of the AFL-CIO in situations similar to those now confronting the steelworkers," the IBOP said.

The IBOP termed the strike "a major test of the strength of all organized labor" and "the greatest challenge the labor movement has faced since the railroad strike of 1922."

Letters have been sent to every local union of the IBOP asking contributions to back up the steel strikers. The Executive Board asked contributions both of the locals and their individual members.

Gets Nod Over Stempel

Van Doren 'Better Actor,' Reporter Says On '21' Quiz

By SAUL PETT

NEW YORK (AP)—In the opinion of this drama fan, the television networks ought to rerun the old quiz shows.

They could title the series, "Find That Fix."

Recent testimony about rigged shows, handy answers and coached emotional responses give the old quiz games more excitement than they held originally.

For example, Twenty-One, on the night of Dec. 5, 1956. It was on this show that Herbert Stempel, according to his recent testimony, took his dive to Charles Van Doren, the campus charmer. His downfall, Stempel said, was all planned down to the last puzzled scratch of his chin.

I have just studied the film of that show. It's fascinating.

If both Van Doren and Stempel were acting — as Stempel implied — I'd have to give the nod to Van Doren as the better actor. He had the biggest emotional scenes — the worried looks, the knitted brows, the chin scratching, the face patting, the indecision, the tension, the anguish.

On face-patting with a handkerchief, I'd say Van Doren was ahead by at least 3-1. On hair rumpling, Stempel led by at least a dozen strands.

But Stempel's gestures lacked spontaneity. When he scratched his chin in what was supposed to be deep, tense thought, his index finger came up tentative, groped, then slowly settled on his chin without much conviction.

And at the very end, when Stempel had just lost $20,000, he failed to build his scene. Van Doren seemed more shaken. Stempel appeared about as disconsolate as a man who had just lost an old bus transfer.

The scoring throughout was stirring.

Stempel, the defending champ, grabbed an early lead, 16-0 in points. Then Stempel stumbled while Van Doren closed the gap to 11-10. And suddenly, by the show, it was tied up at 21-all. Then, with only minutes to go in a new game, Van Doren grabbed an 8-point lead, held it stubbornly and streaked home the winner — breathless, modest but victorious.

Advice for Tired Mothers

- Polyps
- Foreign Bodies In Ears

Q. Can a person be tired all the time without actually being sick? The children get on my nerves and I often feel like throwing in the sponge. Any suggestions?—Mrs. W.

A. Check with your doctor to be sure that nothing is wrong physically. The odds are that you have just run out of steam. In a study of 60 Cleveland mothers who complained of fatigue, only 12 were found to have any organic disease. They often had financial worries and were burdened with housework, club work, fund drives, children and pets. The doctors estimate that in terms of work for the lady of the house, one puppy dog equals about 1½ children; a cat with kittens about 2 children. Tired but otherwise healthy housewives were advised to say "No" to new responsibilities. A new hat might help, said the physicians, especially if it is really fancy. A day off works wonders. See a show or go to a football game, or better still, let someone take the children out and you get a quiet day at home.

Q. I have had hay fever for about 25 years. At first I just sneezed and had a runny nose. Later my nose felt full and doctors removed some polyps. This helped but now they are back again. Is this unusual?

A. No, this is more or less typical. Chronic irritation such as occurs in protracted cases of hay fever seems to favor formation of nasal polyps. The growths have a tendency to recur even when removed under the best circumstances. Surgeons go to great pains in preventing recurrence but try as they may, about one out of four cases eventually turn up with more polyps.

Q. What is the best way to remove foreign bodies such as beads, beans, etc. from a child's ear?

A. The danger of foreign bodies in the ear is mainly in their removal. This is often difficult if the child is nervous and unable to hold the head perfectly still. All in all, it is best to let the physician deal with the problem.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I've been married 7½ years and can truthfully say I've never cheated on my wife once. But I have a problem that even a thinking man can't filter out.

My wife is so suspicious of me it's driving me nuts. If we walk on the street together and I say hello to a woman from the office my wife says, "What's going on between you two anyway?"

If I put on some hair tonic in the morning she says, "Who are you getting spiffed up for?"

Once I brought her a box of candy. She said, "What are you feeling guilty about?"

I never go out alone. The only part of my check I see is the stub. I couldn't buy another woman a package of chewing gum. I knew she was jealous when I married her, but like a fool I was flattered and thought it was love.

If I were to send you a snapshot of myself you'd say, "How could any woman be jealous of him? I'm nothing to look at and I wear a hearing aid.—S.G.

-:-

Dear S.G.: A man who has no money to spend and never goes out alone can't be doing much cheating. But this, of course, is the rational approach and your wife is emotional.

She was insecure about you even before marriage and probably always will be suspicious. This is a deficiency in her and not you. Continue to stay home where you belong and when she starts to nag turn off the hearing aid. Maybe in time she'll have enough confidence in herself to trust you.

Unwanted Temper

Dear Ann: The trouble is ME, spelled with foot-high capital letters. I don't know why, but I'm a rotten daughter to my parents.

Around home I'm a cranky old grouch. But with my friends it's a different story. Everyone thinks I'm sweet as honey. I'll be 16 soon and if this is a stage I'm going through it sure is lasting a long time.

My parents are really the greatest. Sometimes I get so mad at myself for treating them mean I could just die. Please, Ann, tell me how to overcome my sour disposition at home.—MISS MISERABLE

-:-

Dear Miss: Being able to admit that the fault lies with YOU is half the battle. Most People (adults as well as kids) try to place the blame for their poor intra-personal relations on other people.

Resolve to watch your temper, hold your tongue (count 20) and be cooperative around the house.

We all have grouchy spells but the mature person learns to keep his disappointments and frustrations under control and not take them out on others—which is what you've been doing. So recognize it—and good luck.

Test Of Integrity

Dear Ann: You surely didn't give that young gal any help when she wanted to know how to keep from blabbing secrets that she promised not to tell.

I'm 39 years old and this is a problem with a great many people of all ages. Let's be honest about it, Annie. When someone gives you a delicious bit of gossip what else can you do with it?—TUMBLER.

-:-

Dear Tumbler: You could forget it—but, of course, this takes integrity.

Confidentially

TO MAD AT YOU: Sorry but it isn't possible to print every letter. I give personal advice through the mail. Please send an address and a self- addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Explorer VI Loses Voice

WASHINGTON (AP)—Explorer VI, the Paddle Wheel satellite, has lost its voice after just two months of whirling in space.

Its sun-powered radios had been expected to last the life of the satellite, more than a year.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said Thursday that the 142-pound moon went silent Oct. 6. Why was the announcement delayed? "We had hoped the signals might start up again," a spokesman said.

Explorer VI got its nickname from its four vanes or paddles extending from it. The vanes contained solar cells that were to recharge the batteries for the radios.

NASA had no explanation of why the radio went dead. Still, it broadcast a wealth of information back to earth before that happended, including the first crude pictures of the earth as seen from 19,500 miles out.

The satellite still is being tracked by radio telescope.

ELHS Eyes Upset Tonight Over Panthers

The Sports Bench

By BOB DUFFY
Sports Editor

More Than A Football Player . . .

East Liverpool fans, and there should be close to 1,000 attending tonight's game at Warren, will get another chance to see Paul Warfield in action.

The Potter followers who watched the Warren - East Liverpool battle a year ago will remember that this youngster danced his way for three touchdowns in the Panthers' 32-8 victory.

But don't let anybody tell you that Warfield is just a football player.

Naturally, with his talents colleges are ready to swoop down on him, but it is doubtful if he will become a college gridiron star.

From talking to people in Warren, they say that at least six major league baseball clubs are waiting until he receives his high school diploma in June then present him with a fat bonus to play professional baseball.

An outfielder, Warfield hits like a demon and with his speed is a dangerous baserunner.

This marks the fourth year that he has been a letter winner in four sports. In 1957, he won the state broad jump championship, and is busy in the spring competing with the track squad and playing baseball.

He is a starter on the basketball squad and has been a regular on the football team for the past three years.

Warfield is quite a boy, but to put the icing on the cake he is an "A" student in school. What more could anyone ask?

Allen Grabs Headlines . . .

"ALLEN stars with three TD aerials." Allen throws 3 passes in rain for scores." These are some of the headlines from Chicago papers Sunday morning after Bernie Allen's debut as Purdue's No. 1 quarterback.

Forrest Miller of the South Bend Tribune wrote: "With junior quarterback Bernie Allen performing brilliantly, the Boilermakers scored twice on a dry field in the first quarter and added the final touchdown in the mud with less than seven minutes to play to crush the disappointing Badgers, 21-0."

"Allen, after his performance Saturday, must have Purdue coach Jack Mollenkopf looking forward to six consecutive Big Ten games with a bit more optimism."

Wilfred Smith of the Chicago Sunday Tribune wrote: "Allen moved into the top assignment with eager confidence. He directed his forces to an unsurmountable advantage almost before the Badgers, who failed to accomplish a first down in the initial period, realized the decision had been reached."

Here's what Gordon Graham of the Lafayette Journal and Courier said:

"Allen looked every inch an All-American as he guided Purdue to its smashing 21-0 triumph over burly Wisconsin.

"Young Bernie was one of the least surprised persons in the stadium. He had asked his quarterback coach, Bob DeMoss, before the encounter if it would be all right to give the game ball to Ross Fichtner (the injured quarterback that Bernie replaced). Of course a team must win to earn possession of the ball. Reminded of this, Allen calmly replied: 'We'll get it.'

Bernie will be tossing harder than ever Saturday in Ohio Stadium. He and 21 other members of the Purdue squad are from Ohio.

Bernie said this is the one game more than any other he wants to win. I guess Ohio boys who go away to other Big Ten schools receive a great deal of satisfaction from beating Ohio State.

At least Bernie will have his own rooting section tomorrow.

The Blue and White Nonpareil Club is taking 33 members of the East Liverpool varsity to Columbus Saturday to see the Purdue-OSU game.

And as a reminder, Coach Lou Venditti will screen a film of Allen in action during the East Liverpool - Alliance game in 1956 at Tuesday night's Nonpareil Club meeting at the YMCA. The meeting will start at 8 p. m.

Things 'Brighter' At Irondale . . .

THE IRONDALE Booster Club has finally reached its goal. The lights will be turned on for the first time tonight when Irondale entertains Wayne.

The lighting system is a result of a combined project of the Booster Club and the Board of Education.

A large amount of the help was donated by members of the Boosters. Very active in the project were Raymond Patton, Merle Fagan, Oliver Nicholson, Jack Patterson, Charles Hoobler, Don Fraley and many others.

The installation consists of 30 1,500 watt lamps installed on eight poles, four on each side of the field.

We take our hat off to Supt. C. P. Henderson and those people of Irondale who have worked to better their athletic program.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

WE, ALONG with many of his friends, were saddened by the death of "Gabby" Finney. He followed Wellsville and East Liverpool athletic teams and was infielder for the old Irishtown team in the City Baseball League.

SALEM'S LOU SLABY will be starting at fullback for the Pitt freshmen when they take the field against the Penn State Cubs Saturday.

OUR CHOICES showed 8 right and 5 wrong last week and we will attempt to improve this time.

We never like to pick East Liverpool to lose, but how is anybody going to stop Paul Warfield. We are hoping for an upset and the Potters could do it, but we'll have to pick Warren by two touchdowns.

Wellsville gets the nod over South Side, but the Rams could make it close.

Chester is a heavy favorite over arch rival — Newell in the homecoming battle for the Panthers.

We like Irondale to win its first night game over Wayne, Lisbon to stop Sebring, Salem to defeat Akron Hoban, Midland by a wide margin over Rochester, Leetonia to nip Columbiana, East Palestine over Austintown Fitch in a close contest and Brilliant over New Cumberland.

Saturday we'll take United to stop Western Reserve, Salineville to beat Fairfield - Waterford and Denison St. Mary's over Beaver Local.

DON'T BE surprised if the area is represented on the working officials table at the 1961 Ohio state basketball tournament at spacious St. John's Arena in Columbus.

Charles (Chuck) Stone of Wellsville has an excellent chance of being named official scorekeeper for the 1961 cage tourney.

Stone's experience certainly qualifies him for the job. He has missed only one Wellsville basketball game in nine years and is one of the most familiar figures around Beacom Memorial Gym in the winter months.

It is believed that Nate Lorah of East Liverpool High School is the only man in the immediate area to ever have been named to the state tourney staff. Nate was official scorekeeper a few years back.

PAT COOPER, another Potter who made the college ranks, has worked his way up from No. 4 end to No. 2 end at Washington & Jefferson College. Pat snagged a pass that set up W & J's first touchdown against Case Tech last week then caught another aerial for the extra points. He played the full 60 minutes.

SOMETHING new has been added. The Alliance football team is flying to Cincinnati this afternoon for its game with Cincinnati Elder tonight. No wonder they call them the "Aviators."

PAUL WARFIELD
The Man The Potters Must Stop Tonight.

A crowd of 12,000 is expected to pack Warren High School Stadium tonight when an underdog East Liverpool eleven matches its football skill against Ohio's No. 2 schoolboy team — Warren.

If the expected throng shows up for the contest it will mark the largest crowd that an East Liverpool team has ever played before. The action will get underway at 8 p. m. (East Liverpool time).

The big threat of course is the all - around play of Ohio's leading all - state candidate — Paul Warfield.

Considered by his own coach Gene Slaughter as the "best high school back in the nation," Warfield shows that he strikes only on long touchdown runs.

The speed is there in Warfield and the Potters must stop it. This will mean an all - out effort by the Blue and White defense. None of the other four teams which have lost to Warren this season have been able to contain "Prancing Paul."

Warfield, the state broad jump champion as a sophomore, has scored seven touchdowns this season on runs from 46 to 90 yards. He is averaging 9.3 yards per carry.

He is also surrounded by speed in the backfield with Mervin Howard at the right halfback spot. Howard has averaged 6.9 yards in 39 carries.

The Panthers were dealt a big blow when their No. 1 fullback, Willy Jones, was sidelined with a bruised thigh. Jones was an important link in the Warren offense.

Replacing Jones will be Maurice Hicks, a 165 - pound junior. Doug Brown will be starting at quarterback.

Coach Lou Venditti said the Potters looked good in their last hard practice Wednesday night, but reported three boys slowed by a touch of flu.

Ron Prince missed practice earlier this week, but returned to school Thursday and is expected to be at end tonight.

Substitute end Mike Geon along with lineman Joe Smith also skipped practice because of sickness this week.

The spirit among the upset-minded Potters has been running high all week.

The same lineup will be intact and the Potters will be depending on the one-two passing punch of quarterbacks Bob Mackall and Kenny Cunningham.

With Cunningham in the lineup, Mackall goes to a halfback post. Mackall's extra speed carried him behind the St. John's defenders for a 45-yard pass play that went for a touchdown.

Mackall, the key to the Potter offense, will be a marked man tonight. The Potter quarterback has scored nine touchdowns this season.

Besides being the leading scorer in the East Liverpool district, Mackall is No. 1 in Eastern Ohio. His nine touchdowns and four extra points give him a total of 58, three more than Steubenville's great Dave Cunningham.

Dave Zelch is set at left halfback while Henry Roach will be at the other half and John Goodballet at fullback.

The stout Potter line will show Tim Archer and Prince at ends, Craig Burbick and Skip Hall at tackles, Jim Bise and Charlie Davidson at guards and Gary Montgomery will be handling the center chores. East Liverpool's forward wall will spot a few pounds to the Panthers.

Larry Crook, fast improving as a topnotch defensive man, will replace Montgomery on defense while Cunningham will spell Goodballet in the backfield.

Last year was the first time that East Liverpool and Warren met on the gridiron. The Potters put up a good battle but fell by a 32-8 score.

Wellsville Trips East Junior High

A fumble on the one-foot line late in the game cost East Junior High a victory Thursday at Patterson Field. The Wellsville freshmen came out on top with a 12-8 victory.

Wellsville scored both touchdowns in the first period and led 12-0 at halftime.

East End came back in the third period and scored when Tom Kraft reeled off a 30-yard touchdown run. He also added the extra points.

Late in the fourth period, East End drove from midfield to the Wellsville one-foot line, but fumbled and the young Tigers recovered. The game ended two plays later.

Chester, Newell Continue Ancient Rivalry Tonight

Two age-old rivals in Hancock County—Newell and Chester—get together again tonight at Chester City Park in a renewal of their long grid series.

The game will highlight Chester's homecoming celebration. Kickoff is set for 8 p. m.

Coach Dom Amedeo's small but mighty Panthers will be shooting for their fifth straight victory over Newell.

The last time Newell defeated Chester was in 1954 when the Vikings came out on top 12-6. That game was played at Newell.

Since then Chester has had the series pretty much its own way, running up one-sided scores during the past four years.

In 1955 the Panthers scored a 38-0 win, followed with a 12-0 shut out the next year, 49-6 in 1957 and last season turned in a 25-6 victory.

This season Amedeo's forces have posted a 5-1 record so far and are fresh from a victory over a larger Warwood eleven last week.

Meanwhile, Coach Pete Horosko, who was hit hard by injuries earlier in the season, will field a team that hasn't scored in five games.

The Vikings have lost four straight and in their last outing battled Northwestern to a scoreless tie.

Big Larry McSwegin who goes close to the 200-pound mark will be lost to the Panthers tonight. He suffered a leg injury two weeks ago and won't be used. In his place at center will be Bill Allison.

Coach John Petchel sends his Midland Leopards against Rochester tonight as Midland celebrates its homecoming. Midland has a respectable 4-1 record to throw against the Rams tonight. Kickoff at Midland is set for 8 p. m.

In other contests, Wellsville, on a two-game winning streak with victories over Chester and Wheeling Central, entertains South Side.

Coach Ken Woods reported his team in top shape for the invasion of the South Side eleven. The Tigers are on their way to one of the best seasons—recordwise—in the last five years.

Salem will have its work cut out for it when undefeated Akron Hoban moves into Quakertown tonight. The Akron squad has won three straight. The Quakers lost last week to Ambridge.

Columbiana goes to Leetonia and Sebring is at Lisbon in a pair of Tri-County League contests.

East Palestine, the district's only undefeated team and leading the Tri-County League, takes a night off from league competition when the Bulldogs play host to Austintown Fitch.

New Cumberland will be busy tonight entertaining Brilliant while Irondale plays its first night game under the new lights installed at the Irondale field. Wayne will serve at Irondale's opponent.

Shift To Minneapolis Has Congress Frowning

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Congressional criticism today heightened the discord over a possible shift of the Washington Senators to Minneapolis.

Leo D'Orsey, a former Senators director and currently an adviser on financial matters, met Thursday night with Minneapolis business leaders and members of the city's Major League Committee. Later, he left for Washington.

He said he will tell Senators President Calvin Griffith today whether he should stay where he is or come to Minneapolis.

"I'm not telling anyone but Griffith what my recommendation is," D'Orsey said. "If he wants to follow that it's okay with me. If he doesn't, that's his business."

Before he left, D'Orsey blasted Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-NY) for Celler's suggestion that a Griffith move would bring down the wrath of Congress and a result in tough antitrust law aimed at baseball.

"Such a statement is ridiculous," D'Orsey said. "Celler is only trying to make Griffith a scapegoat. What did Celler do when the New York Giants, Brooklyn Dodgers and Philadelphia Athletics decided to move? Nothing. Is Griffith's case any different?"

Rep. Walter Judd (R-Minn) also answered Celler.

"Under the court rules and decisions we can't do anything to change the situation and if Washington wants to move to the Twin Cities, we have no authority to oppose," Judd said.

Beaver Local Reserves Win

The Beaver Local reserves scored in each period to hand Salineville a 28-8 setback Thursday at Salineville.

Williams tallied the first touchdown for the Beavers on a 20-yard gallop. Broadbend scored twice by taking passes that covered 30 yards both times. Wilkinson added the other touchdown on a 10-yard pass play.

Possage ran twice for extra points.

Salineville's lone tally came on a 75-yard run by Nick Richards after taking a short pass. Ronnie Giannone ran for the extra points.

NBA To Open On Saturday

By The Associated Press

The major league of professional basketball — the National Basketball Assn. — opens its 14th season Saturday afternoon with the Boston Celtics favored to retain their world championship come playoff time in April.

The opening game will be a nationally televised (NBC) game at Boston with the Celtics entertaining the Cincinnati Royals at 5 p. m. (EDT).

On Sunday, in another nationally televised afternoon game, the Minneapolis Lakers, surprise Western division champs last year, play host to the Detroit Pistons.

All eight teams take the floor on Saturday, Oct. 24. Detroit is at Cincinnati in an afternoon, televised game. In night games Philadelphia is at Syracuse, and Minneapolis at St. Louis.

Just as the advent last year of rookie Elgin Baylor sparked Minneapolis to its unexpected victory in the Western division, the appearance in league play of the much publicized Wilt Chamberlain is expected to revive the Philadelphia Warriors.

The game will highlight Chester's homecoming celebration. Kickoff is set for 8 p. m.

Coach Dom Amedeo's small but mighty Panthers will be shooting for their fifth straight victory over Newell.

The last time Newell defeated Chester was in 1954 when the Vikings came out on top 12-6. That game was played at Newell.

Since then Chester has had the series pretty much its own way, running up one-sided scores during the past four years.

In 1955 the Panthers scored a 38-0 win, followed with a 12-0 shutout the next year, 49-6 in 1957 and last season turned in a 25-6 victory.

This season Amedeo's forces have posted a 5-1 record so far and are fresh from a victory over a larger Warwood eleven last week.

Meanwhile, Coach Pete Horoszko, who was hit hard by injuries earlier in the season, will field a team that hasn't scored in five games.

The Vikings have lost four straight and in their last outing battled Northwestern to a scoreless tie.

Big Larry McSwegin who goes close to the 200-pound mark will be lost to the Panthers tonight. He suffered a leg injury two weeks ago and won't be used. In his place at center will be Bill Allison.

Coach John Petchel sends his Midland Leopards against Rochester tonight as Midland celebrates its homecoming. Midland has a respectable 4-1 record to throw against the Rams tonight. Kickoff at Midland is set for 8 p. m.

In other contests, Wellsville, on a two-game winning streak with victories over Chester and Wheeling Central, entertains South Side.

Coach Ken Woods reported his team in top shape for the invasion of the South Side eleven. The Tigers are on their way to one of the best seasons—recordwise—in the last five years.

Salem will have its work cut out for it when undefeated Akron Hoban moves into Quakertown tonight. The Akron squad has won three straight. The Quakers lost last week to Ambridge.

Columbiana goes to Leetonia and Sebring is at Lisbon in a pair of Tri-County League contests.

East Palestine, the district's only undefeated team and leading the Tri-County League, takes a night off from league competition when the Bulldogs play host to Austintown Fitch.

New Cumberland will be busy tonight entertaining Brilliant while Irondale plays its first night game under the new lights installed at the Irondale field. Wayne will serve as Irondale's opponent.

Shift To Minneapolis Has Congress Frowning

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Congressional criticism today heightened the discord over a possible shift of the Washington Senators to Minneapolis.

Leo D'Orsey, a former Senators director and currently an adviser on financial matters, met Thursday night with Minneapolis business leaders and members of the city's Major League Committee. Later, he left for Washington.

He said he will tell Senators President Calvin Griffith today whether he should stay where he is or come to Minneapolis.

"I'm not telling anyone but Griffith what my recommendation is," D'Orsey said. "If he wants to follow that it's okay with me. If he doesn't, that's his business."

Before he left, D'Orsey blasted Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-NY) for Celler's suggestion that a Griffith move would bring down the wrath of Congress and a result in tough antitrust law aimed at baseball.

"Such a statement is ridiculous," D'Orsey said. "Celler is only trying to make Griffith a scapegoat. What did Celler do when the New York Giants, Brooklyn Dodgers and Philadelphia Athletics decided to move? Nothing. Is Griffith's case any different?"

Rep. Walter Judd (R-Minn) also answered Celler.

"Under the court rules and decisions we can't do anything to change the situation and if Washington wants to move to the Twin Cities, we have no authority to oppose," Judd said.

NBA To Open On Saturday

By The Associated Press

The major league of professional basketball — the National Basketball Assn. — opens its 14th season Saturday afternoon with the Boston Celtics favored to retain their world championship come playoff time in April.

The opening game will be a nationally televised (NBC) game at Boston with the Celtics entertaining the Cincinnati Royals at 5 p. m. (EDT).

On Sunday, in another nationally televised afternoon game, the Minneapolis Lakers, surprise Western division champs last year, play host to the Detroit Pistons.

All eight teams take the floor on Saturday, Oct. 24. Detroit is at Cincinnati in an afternoon, televised game. In night games Philadelphia is at Syracuse, and Minneapolis at St. Louis.

Just as the advent last year of rookie Elgin Baylor sparked Minneapolis to its unexpected victory in the Western division, the appearance in league play of the much publicized Wilt Chamberlain is expected to revive the Philadelphia Warriors.

Wellsville Trips East Junior High

A fumble on the one-foot line late in the game cost East Junior High a victory Thursday at Patterson Field. The Wellsville freshmen came out on top with a 12-8 victory.

Wellsville scored both touchdowns in the first period and led 12-0 at halftime.

East End came back in the third period and scored when Tom Kraft reeled off a 30-yard touchdown run. He also added the extra points.

Late in the fourth period, East End drove from midfield to the Wellsville one-foot line, but fumbled and the young Tigers recovered. The game ended two plays later.

Manager Of The Year Award Goes To Lopez

NEW YORK (AP) — Al Lopez blended the Chicago White Sox speed and good pitching with his own managerial experience and know-how to end the four - year American League pennant domination of Casey Stengel and the New York Yankees.

Largely because he helped bring the first flag in 40 years to Chicago's South Side, Lopez today was voted the American League manager of the year for 1959 in the Associated Press annual poll.

The gay Senor from Tampa, Fla., won by an overwhelming majority in the balloting by members of the Baseball Writers' Assn. of America. He collected 159 votes, with Joe Gordon of Cleveland polling 12 and Jimmy Dykes of Detroit the remaining three.

Lopez, 51, is not accustomed to one-sided victories. In his nine seasons as a big league pilot, he has had more "seconds" than a starved boarding house tenant. His teams, the White Sox and Indians, were runners-up seven times to Stengel's Yankees. Once, in 1954, his Indians came out on top in a close race with New York.

The past season Lopez utilized the Sox' speed to their best advantage. He recognized the unexplored pitching ability of Bob Shaw, who won 18 games; maneuvered his bullpen specialists, Turk Lown and Gerry Staley, with excellent results and kept the club morale at a high level.

Club Owners In NFL Favor 4 More Teams

DETROIT, Mich. (AP) — The National Football League is making every effort to add four teams to its 12-team structure—two each in 1960 and 1961, the president of the Detroit Lions revealed today.

"But all the mechanics and cities are yet to be decided," said Edwin J. Anderson, Lions' president-general manager.

NFL clubs voted 11-1 this week for expansion, he said.

Anderson listed Boston, Dallas and Houston as the strongest possibilities, with Buffalo, Miami and Louisville also in the running.

The Detroit Free Press said flatly today the two Texas cities would be added to the NFL next year.

"The cities have not been picked," Anderson said. "We've just decided to expand — nothing more has been decided.

"How we'd give them players, alignment and many other problems remain to be settled."

The matter most likely will not come to a vote until Jan. 26, when the league holds its meeting.

The newly formed American Football League already has announced intentions to operate in 1960 with Dallas and Houston holding franchises.

Red Wings Off To Good Start

By The Associated Press

Last season the Detroit Red Wings finished last in the National Hockey League and missed the playoffs for the first time since 1941-1942 campaign. They obviously don't aim to do it again.

They are leading the league with three victories and one tie, with a 2-1 conquest of the Chicago Black Hawks Thursday night their latest achievement.

In the other NHL game the Montreal Canadiens scored four goals in the first period in defeating the Toronto Maple Leafs, 4-2, to take over third place.

Two second - period goals by Alex Delvecchio and some spectacular goal tending by Terry Sawchuk brought the Red Wings their victory. Sawchuk has 29 saves, 15 of them coming in the final period to thwart the Black Hawks' bid for a tie.

Four players shared the scoring as the Canadiens piled up their winning score in the first period. Henri Richard, Jean Beliveau, Marcel Bonin and Dickie Moore found the net. Bob Pulford scored the lone goal for the Leafs in the final period unassisted.

Purdue Given 7-Point Edge Against OSU

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—There is no tendency to poo-poo Purdue, but Ohio State's twice - beaten Bucks plan to regain a bit of pride and prestige by upsetting the favored fifth - rated Boilermakers Saturday.

And if they get a couple of breaks as they did in last year's 14-14 deadlock with the Lafayette corps, Coach Woody Hayes' green kids could turn the tables on the undefeated seven-point favorites.

Last season, as Ohio's biggest crowd of 83,481 looked on, end Jim Houston and tackle Jim Marshall teamed up for two of the most bizarre six-pointers in stadium history.

In the first period Houston blocked a punt and the big tackle raced the ball back 22 yards for a score. In the second session Houston leaped high to bat a pass by Bob Spoo, deflected it into Marshall's hands, and Jim was off for a 25-yard touchdown.

Ohio led 14-0 at the half, but had a tough time holding on as the Bucks intercepted one pass in the end zone, two on the goal line, and took the ball on downs on the 2 and 17-yard lines.

The two big guns in Purdue's pair of touchdowns will miss this one because of injuries. Out of action are Bob Jarus, fullback who plunged three yards for the first of the fourth-quarter scores, and quarterback Ross Fichtner who tossed seven yards to end Dick Brooks for the other. Halfback Clyde Washington teamed up with Brooks for a two-point pass conversion to tie it with two minutes to go.

In that 1958 scrap Purdue had 22 first downs to Ohio's 11, and outgained the Bucks 374 to 180 yards. The 14-14 tie evened the series for the last 10 games, each winning four and tying two, with Ohio having a 177 to 157 point edge.

The Bucks, pointless the last two games, rank ninth in offense and eighth in defense in the Big Ten, while Purdue is tops on defense and fifth on offense.

But despite the bleak outlook, Hayes says his team is ready and that it should be a "whale of a football game." Several lineup changes are expected to ignite both the offense and defense.

Ernie Wright has been shifted from tackle to left guard, Dick Michael has assumed the vacated left tackle spot, and Dick Anders is the new No. 1 center. In the backfield Terry Hansley has won the left halfback job.

Bernie Allen of East Liverpool, Ohio, a deluxe passer, will call signals for Purdue in place of Fichtner, while Jack Laraway of Erie, Pa., goes at fullback in place of Jarus. Of the 66 players on Purdue's squad 21 are from Ohio, and only five from Indiana.

Miami, Navy Tilt Opens Big Weekend Of Football

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Fran Curci, a mosquito boat size football player compared to Navy's "22 skidoo" battlewagons, leads the Miami (Fla.) Hurricanes against the Middies tonight in the Orange Bowl to open a king-size college football weekend.

Curci, a 5-foot-9 senior, is the hub of a Miami team that has won two of three games, losing last week to Louisiana State, top-ranked team in the Associated Press poll.

The 152-pound quarterback is also the main hope for a revival by the Hurricanes. They won only 2 of 10 games in 1958.

Navy, now 2-2 after winning its first two games, relies on quarterbacks Joe Tranchini and Jim Maxfield to lead its two-platoon attack.

Utah is at Denver in another game tonight.

Saturday, the major unbeatens begin a battle for survival. At least five are good bets to fall. Five games pit 10 unbeatens, including Texas' game with Arkansas, Southern California's battle with Washington and Air Force's encounter with Oregon.

In addition, eighth-ranked Syracuse meets Holy Cross and unscored-upon Yale travels to Cornell.

Texas, third-ranked after last week's 19-12 victory over Oklahoma, will send an attack headed by halfbacks Jack Collins and Rene Ramirez against a defense as tough as its own. Arkansas, like Texas, has given only two touchdowns. Both have run up 4-0 records.

Southern Cal (No. 7) brings its 3-0 record to Washington (4-0) headed by its mammoth line that tops the conference defensively, and an attack that lags only in passing offense. The Huskies will counter with quarterback Bob Schloredt and halfback Don McKeta, its 1-2 punch to date.

Syracuse, tops nationally in defense, will have its equally high-powered offense tested by a stout Holy Cross line that has given only one touchdown in three games. Both have 3-0 records.

Top-ranked Louisiana State begins defense of its Southeastern title at Kentucky, facing a Wildcat team that has lost all three SEC games and has beaten only Detroit. LSU is 4-0.

Other SEC games featuring top-ranked teams finds Georgia Tech (No. 4) going against Auburn. Unscored-upon and unbeaten (4-0) Mississippi, ranked fifth, meets Tulane, winner of its last two.

In the Big Ten, second-ranked Northwestern faces Michigan but must go without halfback Ron Burton, out with a sprained ankle, and with a quarterback situation that is in the hands of reserves after Dick Thornton's injury two weeks ago. Purdue (2-0-1), ranked sixth and tops defensively in the Big Ten, meets Ohio State. Iowa (No. 9) sends its high-powered aerial game against Wisconsin.

Tenth-rated Penn State, unbeaten in four games, plays Boston University.

Notre Dame travels to Michigan State in the Television Game of the Day. Unscored-upon Penn (3-0) plays Brown in an Ivy League game.

Browns Rate 5-Point Edge

CLEVELAND (AP)—A nimble band of Texans will be out to upset the odds when the Chicago Cardinals battle the favored Cleveland Browns here Sunday.

On the strength of its 34-7 victory over the Cards two weeks ago, Cleveland is a five - point favorite.

Not all of the Cards are from Texas but there's a fair sprinkling of Texans on the Chicago roster and the entire backfield has roots in the Lone Star State.

Quarterback King Hill and halfback Bobby Joe Conrad are native Texans who played their college ball there, Hill at Rice and Conrad at Texas A. & M.

Fullback Mal Hammack is from Roscoe, Tex., but he played football at Florida.

John Crow, a highly rated halfback, lives in Louisiana but was a teammate of Conrad's at Texas A&M.

There four are the key men in coach Frank Ivy's fancy offense, which uses double and triple wing-ed-T formations and sometimes a split-T.

Conrad is the team's leading ground gainer, with 159 yards rushing. He scooted 56 hards for a touchdown against the Washington Redskins in the first game of the year. That's the longest run from scrimmage in the National Football League this season.

Dodgers Show $11,231 Each For Series High

NEW YORK (AP) — The Los Angeles Coliseum, maligned as a poor excuse for a baseball plant, was looked upon more kindly today by the champion Dodgers and the Chicago White Sox.

The vast structure was the major reason for the World Series rivals splitting a record series' melon of $893,301.40, with each of the three games there producing progressively record crowds of 92,000 plus. The players shared only in the first two of those games.

The Dodgers voted each of 29 players a full share of $11,231.18. The White Sox voted 31 full shares, each man getting $7,275.17.

The previous record for a full share to a winning player was $11,147.90, set by the New York Giants in 1954. The Brooklyn Dodgers of 1956 held the previous high of $6,934.34 for a loser's full share.

The Giants and Cleveland, due to the seating capacity of Cleveland's Municipal Stadium, split $881,763.72 in 1954, which was the previous high for the players' share. The players participate in the receipts of only the first four games.

The split of the players' cut in series' receipts includes 70 per cent for the two participating teams, 15 per cent to the second place teams (Milwaukee and Cleveland); 10 per cent to the third place teams (San Francisco and New York), and 5 per cent for the fourth place teams (Pittsburgh and Detroit). Of the money to pennant winners, the Dodgers got 60 per cent and the White Sox 40 per cent.

Reds Buy Third Sacker

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds have bought third baseman Tom Dotterer, brother of Reds' catcher Dutch Dotterer, from the club's Nashville farm team of the Southern Assn. Tom, a lefthand batter, drove in 46 runs and hit eight homers while batting .260 last season.

Fullmer Signs For Title Bout

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) —Champion Gene Fullmer's year-old decision over Spider Webb might be taken lightly by bettors when the two meet Dec. 4, in a middleweight title bout in Logan, Utah.

Fullmer, of nearby West Jordan, and the Chicagoan signed here Thursday for the 15 - round match. It will be Fullmer's first defense of the National Boxing Assn. crown he won in a battle with Carmen Basilio in August.

Fullmer battered out a 10-round decision over the sharp-jabbing Webb here in September 1958. Webb then was unable to get anything permanently damaging past Fullmer's wrap-around crouch.

If Webb has mapped a route past Fullmer's arms, he could come out of the next clash owning the crown.

But Fullmer, a flailing charger until he showed a touch of the fancy dan boxer in the Basilio battle, might not wade into Webb in the same way again.

Promoters will be the Intermountain Boxing Club, headed by furrier Joe Dupler, and Norman Rothschild of Syracuse, N.Y., showman for the Basilio-Fullmer match.

Housewife, 31, Sets Catalina Swim Record

AVALON, Santa Catalina Island, Calif. (AP) — An attractive Long Beach housewife holds the new women's record for swimming from the mainland to Santa Catalina Island.

Tuna Salad Is An American Family Favorite

Noted for its superior quality protein, also popular of flavor, canned tuna is ideal for salads since it can be used direct from the can. The succulent pieces of tuna are liked by many with just a highlight of lemon or lime juice.

Tuna also is a natural with other salad ingredients. Here, it is teamed with hard cooked eggs, celery, stuffed olives and salad greens. Such a handsome salad would be a main dish attraction at a summer party buffet.

Tuna Salad

2 cans (6½ or 7 ounces each) tuna
2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
1 cup diced celery
¼ cup French dressing
½ teaspoon salt
salad greens
½ cup mayonnaise
Stuffed olives, sliced

Combine tuna with eggs, celery and French dressing; sprinkle with salt. Arrange on salad greens and garnish with mayonnaise and sliced stuffed olives.

DeGaulle Wins Algeria Peace Plan Support

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle's peace plan for rebellious Algeria won overwhelming parliamentary approval today after Premier Michael Debre expressed confidence that France will not let go of the North African territory for generations to come.

Winding up a bitter three-day debate in the National Assembly, Debre countered right-wing cries that De Gaulle was giving away Algeria by declaring that any Algerian move to secede from France would be beaten "once and for all."

A threatened revolt against the government failed to materialize. The National Assembly in the early morning hours voted 441-23 to give De Gaulle a free hand to end the five-year rebellion. Eighty-five members abstained or were not present.

De Gaulle on Sept. 16 promised Algeria three choices — integration with France, home rule in association with France, or independence, though he admitted he was opposed to independence.

Debre did not go back on this offer, but he promised that "no force will be withdrawn."

"We must succeed by pacification," the Premier declared. "Pacification" is the word the French use for their military measures against the rebels.

Asks Pay Tax Hike

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Mayor Frank X. Kryzan has asked City Council to boost the city's nine-mill income tax to one per cent to help finance a five per cent pay raise for 1,400 city workers Dec. 1. The present nine-mill tax expires at the end of the year.

The mayor estimated the extra mill would bring in an additional $450,000 annually. The pay raise would cost about $540,000. Kryzan said the balance would be paid from the $200,000 balance anticipated at the close of the current calendar year.

Copter, Golf Cart Collide On Fairway

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A helicopter and an electric golf cart collided on the second fairway of the Tripoli Golf Club.

2,000 Launch Fourth Day Of Fire Fighting

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The prospect of favorable wind conditions stirred modest optimism today as 2,000 men opened the fourth day of fighting against a hungry foothill brush fire.

The sprawling fire, blamed on a careless smoker, was still out of control after covering more than 7,200 acres northeast of Los Angeles. Officials said they couldn't estimate when it might be tamed.

But the county fire department said the situation was improving.

The fire was fiercest on its northwestern front, where it pushed into Big Tujunga Canyon. Two to three dozen residents of La Paloma Flats in the canyon were evacuated Thursday night and taken to Tujunga, in the extreme northeast section of Los Angeles. But the fire had reached none of the homes in this area.

Earlier, it had menaced La Canada, Altadena and other communities to the southeast—toward Los Angeles proper. But these areas appeared out of danger today.

The major loss so far has not been in homes—only a few of which have been damaged—but in prime watershed needed as a defense against floods.

Five more fire fighters were hospitalized, bringing the total injuries so far to 10.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Temperatures will average three to five degrees below normal. Normal high 62 north, 66 south. Normal low 43-44. Cooler Saturday and Sunday, warmer about Monday and cooler Tuesday or Wednesday. Precipitation will total less than one-quarter inch in scattered showers about Tuesday.

Man Does Good Job Of Selling Himself

LOCKPORT, N. Y. (AP) — Irritated because his party line always seemed to be busy, a customer walked into the telephone company office here with his phone under his arm after tearing it off the wall.

Company officials weren't too upset. The man asked for a new private line, extension dial, night lamp and two color phones.

Max Baughman, Georgia Tech center, made 17 tackles in his team's 14-12 victory over Kentucky.

Police Chief Knows His Float Regulators

ASHLAND, Ky. (AP) — Guesses ranged from remnants of a flying saucer to some mysterious metal from another world when a metal sphere was found beside a highway near here.

Police Chief Charles Howard identified it right away. It was a float regulator from a large gasoline tank.

Help Your Child Recognize ABC's

A child in the second grade, or later, may not recognize nearly all the letters of the alphabet. There are only 26 of them, you know, and he'll need to use them the rest of his life. If you discover this lack in your school child, you should find good ways to help him.

By Garry Meyers

Otherwise, he won't get far at reading nor anywhere at spelling. Please express no amazement that he can't identify some or many of the letters. Don't burden him with a critical monologue of the school. Just set about, serenely, patiently, to help him. If there are several letters he doesn't know, don't practice him on all of them at once. Center on two or three an evening, on only one at a time.

HAVE HIM see the letter and name it. Have him print it or trace it after you have printed it neatly and in good size. Then have him pick out this letter in words of a story you have read to him.

Do likewise with a second letter, then a third. Finally have him search on a printed page for each of these letters as you name them.

Be sure he knows the consonants before attacking the vowels. Limit his first practice to the small letters. Do the capitals later.

Don't practice the child early on pairs of letters easily confused, like b and d. If you wish to help him clear up such confusion he might already have, dwell on just one letter of the pair at a sitting.

—:—

ALSO WHEN he later confuses the spelling of such pairs of homonyms as beat and beet, their and there, fair and fare, have him practice only one until it is mastered before comparing it with the other.

For reading and getting ready to read, recognition of the initial letter of a word proves very useful.

A good practice is to draw pictures or help him cut them from old papers or magazines and paste them on a page of familiar objects which begin with the same letter—like ball, boat, bat. Have him say these words as he gets help from their pictures.

This practice acquaints him not only with the name of the initial letter but also with its sound. Too, it gives him left to right practice. Most of the consonants have only one sound each.

—:—

NOW DON'T be afraid to help your child at home to learn to identify the letters of the alphabet. Even if he's taught to read by the look-and-say method at school, this acquirement won't hurt him. It will help him.

Nor should you hesitate to help your preschool child learn some of the letters, if you make it fun and not a chore.

My bulletins, "Helping Child with Lessons at Home" and "Home Fun with Phonics," may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Eating Pattern Offers Overweight Clues

"I cannot for the life of me stay on a diet. I am like an alcoholic, only my weakness is food. What is wrong with me!" This bafflement is expressed in many a letter.

Ida Jean Kain

The overweight problem needs to be tackled from the psychological as well as the dietary standpoint. Until you develop insight into the reasons back of desire to over-eat, diet attempts are quite likely to fail. Honest fact-facing can often bring unexpected enlightenment. If you straighten out your thinking, the urge to over - eat diminishes.

Psychiatrists point out that eating is the most common response to emotional disappointment. Why is this true? The first set of needs in life has to do with eating and being warm and secure.

—:—

OFTEN FOOD represents security which dates back to early childhood. The dieters who run into difficulty are those to whom food means love and early affection. When trouble crops up, the old feelings about food are revived and these overweights eat for comfort.

It takes deliberate effort to break the habit of turning to food to ease life's tensions. First recognize that you are eating for comfort and that it is of no help in solving the problem.

Ask yourself some searching questions. Under what circumstances are you most hungry? If it is when you are alone, you can readily see that you are substituting food for companionship. If you tend to "eat like crazy" after being in a group where you felt left out, try to ferret out why you felt left out.

Think back to how you made out on previous diets. Did you become discouraged when you failed to lose on schedule? On an impulse, did you think "Oh, what the heck, I might as well eat!" Or did you feel defiant and have a "nobody is going to tell me what to eat" attitude?

HERE'S THE KEY: Over-eating is always an attempt to make up for something. Just facing up to this fact and becoming aware of what it is can give needed enlightenment. If you cannot do this on your own, seek professional help.

Dieters, become alert to the conditions under which you tend to turn to food and the pattern can be traced. Then make up your mind to accept adult responsibility for what you eat. It isn't easy—but the rewards are tremendous.

Bing Crosby Termed Fond Of Pound Cake

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Bing Crosby is fond of pound cake, his mother-in-law confides.

So Mrs. D.E. Grandstaff had her sister Frances Sullivan bake one, and they carried it aboard an airliner which took them to Los Angeles Thursday.

Crosby's infant daughter, Mary Frances, was to be christened there today.

Mrs. Grandstaff is the mother of Bing's wife, actress Kathy Grant.

Menacing Red Tide Leaves Dead Fish Mark

VENICE, Fla. (AP)—The menacing Red Tide has left its mark of dead fish on beaches here and biologists predict more will wash ashore.

Thick patches of rotting fish along a 25-mile front brought stifling fumes to this area Thursday.

Red Tide is a marine micro-organism that turns the water a rust color and is fatal to fish under certain weather conditions.

Raps Rock 'n' Roll

CINCINNATI (AP) — Meredith Willson, Iowa-born composer and conductor, drew a bead on rock 'n' roll Thursday saying, "This rock 'n' roll is on a par with the biblical plagues." He told an interviewer he thinks the music is "just a constant repetition of the same three chords in the same unrealistic tempo." But Willson said he sees some hope in rapid growth of bands and orchestras in public schools and small communities.

State Fair Dates Set

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's 1960 state fair will be held Aug. 26 to Sept. 2, Agriculture Director Robert Terhune announced Thursday.

NEW YORK (AP)—Fumes from a defective flue caused panic Thursday night among residents of a West Side tenement building. Nine persons were hospitalized but none were in serious condition today.

Officials said the fumes came from a flue leading from a hot water boiler in the five - story building's basement.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY MEYERS

Help Your Child Recognize ABC's

A child in the second grade, or later, may not recognize nearly all the letters of the alphabet. There are only 26 of them, you know, and he'll need to use them the rest of his life. If you discover this lack in your school child, you should find good ways to help him.

By Garry Meyers

Otherwise, he won't get far at reading nor anywhere at spelling. Please express no amazement that he can't identify some or many of the letters. Don't burden him with a critical monologue of the school. Just set about, serenely, patiently, to help him. If there are several letters he doesn't know, don't practice him on all of them at once. Center on two or three an evening, on only one at a time.

HAVE HIM see the letter and name it. Have him print it or trace it after you have printed it neatly and in good size. Then have him pick out this letter in words of a story you have read to him.

Do likewise with a second letter, then a third. Finally have him search on a printed page for each of these letters as you name them.

Be sure he knows the consonants before attacking the vowels. Limit his first practice to the small letters. Do the capitals later.

Don't practice the child early on pairs of letters easily confused, like b and d. If you wish to help him clear up such confusion he might already have, dwell on just one letter of the pair at a sitting.

—:—

ALSO WHEN he later confuses the spelling of such pairs of homonyms as beat and beet, their and there, fair and fare, have him practice only one until it is mastered before comparing it with the other.

For reading and getting ready to read, recognition of the initial letter of a word proves very useful.

A good practice is to draw pictures or help him cut them from old papers or magazines and paste them on a page of familiar objects which begin with the same letter—like ball, boat, bat. Have him say these words as he gets help from their pictures.

This practice acquaints him not only with the name of the initial letter but also with its sound. Too, it gives him left to right practice. Most of the consonants have only one sound each.

—:—

NOW DON'T be afraid to help your child at home to learn to identify the letters of the alphabet. Even if he's taught to read by the look-and-say method at school, this acquirement won't hurt him. It will help him.

Nor should you hesitate to help your preschool child learn some of the letters, if you make it fun and not a chore.

My bulletins, "Helping Child with Lessons at Home" and "Home Fun with Phonics," may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Eating Pattern Offers Overweight Clues

"I cannot for the life of me stay on a diet. I am like an alcoholic, only my weakness is food. What is wrong with me!" This bafflement is expressed in many a letter.

Ida Jean Kain

The overweight problem needs to be tackled from the psychological as well as the dietary standpoint. Until you develop insight into the reasons back of desire to over-eat, diet attempts are quite likely to fail. Honest fact-facing can often bring unexpected enlightenment. If you straighten out your thinking, the urge to over - eat diminishes.

Psychiatrists point out that eating is the most common response to emotional disappointment. Why is this true? The first set of needs in life has to do with eating and being warm and secure.

—:—

OFTEN FOOD represents security which dates back to early childhood. The dieters who run into difficulty are those to whom food means love and early affection. When trouble crops up, the old feelings about food are revived and these overweights eat for comfort.

It takes deliberate effort to break the habit of turning to food to ease life's tensions. First recognize that you are eating for comfort and that it is of no help in solving the problem.

Ask yourself some searching questions. Under what circumstances are you most hungry? If it is when you are alone, you can readily see that you are substituting food for companionship. If you tend to "eat like crazy" after being in a group where you felt left out, try to ferret out why you felt left out.

Think back to how you made out on previous diets. Did you become discouraged when you failed to lose on schedule? On an impulse, did you think "Oh, what the heck, I might as well eat!" Or did you feel defiant and have a "nobody is going to tell me what to eat" attitude?

HERE'S THE KEY: Over-eating is always an attempt to make up for something. Just facing up to this fact and becoming aware of what it is can give needed enlightenment. If you cannot do this on your own, seek professional help.

Dieters, become alert to the conditions under which you tend to turn to food and the pattern can be traced. Then make up your mind to accept adult responsibility for what you eat. It isn't easy—but the rewards are tremendous.

Bing Crosby Termed Fond Of Pound Cake

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Bing Crosby is fond of pound cake, his mother-in-law confides.

So Mrs. D.E. Grandstaff had her sister Frances Sullivan bake one, and they carried it aboard an airliner which took them to Los Angeles Thursday.

Crosby's infant daughter, Mary Frances, was to be christened there today.

Mrs. Grandstaff is the mother of Bing's wife, actress Kathy Grant.

Menacing Red Tide Leaves Dead Fish Mark

VENICE, Fla. (AP)—The menacing Red Tide has left its mark of dead fish on beaches here and biologists predict more will wash ashore.

Thick patches of rotting fish along a 25-mile front brought stifling fumes to this area Thursday.

Red Tide is a marine micro-organism that turns the water a rust color and is fatal to fish under certain weather conditions.

Raps Rock 'n' Roll

CINCINNATI (AP) — Meredith Willson, Iowa-born composer and conductor, drew a bead on rock 'n' roll Thursday saying, "This rock 'n' roll is on a par with the biblical plagues." He told an interviewer he thinks the music is "just a constant repetition of the same three chords in the same unrealistic tempo." But Willson said he sees some hope in rapid growth of bands and orchestras in public schools and small communities.

State Fair Dates Set

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's 1960 state fair will be held Aug. 26 to Sept. 2, Agriculture Director Robert Terhune announced Thursday.

NEW YORK (AP)—Fumes from a defective flue caused panic Thursday night among residents of a West Side tenement building.

Nine persons were hospitalized but none were in serious condition today.

Officials said the fumes came from a flue leading from a hot water boiler in the five - story building's basement.

WILL HANDLE ONE OF THESE

$6,300—IN PLEASANT HEIGHTS
Right now it is three nice rooms and bath on a good lot, with good view and plenty of space for a garage. The upstairs will make two nice rooms with a little bit of paneling. The location justifies doing the few things which need done.

$11,000—LISBON ST.—PLEASANT HEIGHTS
A nice country home in the city, with an acre of ground, yet it has all kinds of shade, shrubbery, and even some friut trees. There is room for a garden or to build another house without crowding. It has gas heat, one car garage and is on city sewer.

$9,500—BEECHWOOD—TWO STORY, TWO BEDROOM
Nicely remodeled throughout, beautiful bath and kitchen—with wall to wall carpeting upstairs and down, picture window, etc. $1,500 down and assume Veterans Loan. $53 per month.

$10,500 FISHER PARK
It's a National Home about 7 years old on a lot 50x150, well landscaped with garage and patio. There is no basement, but the nice utility room and the spacious garage really make up for that fact. These homes hold their value, so if you keep it five years, how could you lose?

Columbia Professor's New Book Weighs Human Conduct

Joseph Wood Krutch, frequently a contributor to the New York Times and for many years a professor at Columbua, has brought his magnifying glass to bear on some of the moral weaknesses of our time.

His widely discussed new book, "Human Nature and the Human Condition," is available at the Carnegie Public Library, Mrs. Frances Jones, librarian, said.

Krutch deplores the frequency with which we allow ourselves to be judged by the average rather than the best, and he also derides the individual's exploitation from advertising.

A writer who uses the pen name of Manasses steals from the writing of John Donne for his book, "Go In Peace." Though much of his concern is with the practice of confession in the Episcopalian Church, the human stories with which the author enlivens his text make for a very good book.

Dr. George S. Stevenson, consultant for the National Association for Mental Health, has devised a formula to curb the nervousness which plagues many people. The title of the book is "Master Your Tensions and Enjoy Living Again." Dr. Heinz Wolterek, a German psychologist, has made a study of aging and incorporated his advice in "New Life for Your Later Years."

Those who are responsible for religious services will find assistance in Harry Emerson Fosdick's "A Book of Public Prayers." This includes 56 prayers appropriate for general use, 19 for special occasions and holidays, and 13 litanies for responsive reading.

It is often said that comedy requires both wit and true perspective and the trio of memoirs on this week's new book shelf illustrate this point.

The autobiography of Groucho Marx, "Groucho and Me;" "Goodness Had Nothing to Do With It," by Mae West, and "Ed Wynn's Son," by Keenan Wynn.

Groucho recalls a lot of clowning which was not in the act, and one of Mae West's most cogent bits of advice is included in a letter she wrote to Dr. Kinsey. Wynn admits that the family of a comedian often leads a dog's life but many of his own disasters were his own fault — such as the week when he wrecked five automobiles.

The chronicle of the valiant efforts of a blind man to find himself and his place in life affords a lesson to those who have no physical problems. Jacob Twersky, a Polish immigrant, who was stricken blind as a child, tells of his fight with blindness in "The Sound of the walls." He eventually became a college teacher, but he had to conquer his pride to make himself use a cane.

For sheer heroic wisdom, there are few who can surpass Albert Schweitzer, doctor, missionary, organist and scholar. A French-speaking dentist, Frederick Franck, from New York City, offered his service to "Le Grand Docteur" and his reminiscences of his two years spent at Lambarene are recorded in "Days with Albert Schweitzer."

An English novelist, A. E. Ellis, tells of the experiences of a tuberculosis patient at a sanatorium in the French Alps. This extraordinarily moving novel is entitled "The Rack." Charlotte Armstrong presents a sympathetic set of sketches of women who have just lost their husbands — the title, "The Seventeen Widows of Sans Souci." Modern Florida, its garish opulence and local interest in archeology, are the two themes which insure interest in Gerald Green's "The Lotus Eaters."

Jessamyn West comments on the experience of love for men and for women in a new essay, "Love Is Not What You Think."

Beef Cattle And Calves For Slaughter Up 20%

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agricultural Market Service says 21 states show a 20 per cent increase in the number of beef cattle and calves on feed for the quality slaughter market.

In the midwest, where most of the feeding is done, the increase is about 15 per cent over a year ago. In Ohio, it is 14 per cent and in Indiana about 20 per cent.

Continuance Granted

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Another continuance was granted Thursday in the drunk driving case of Mrs. Elizabeth T. Smith, Democratic state representative from Barberton. The 48-year-old legislator is also charged with failure to maintain assured clear distance in an accident here July 6. She has pleaded innocent. The case is slated for Nov. 12.

Cleanup Job Set To Begin At Two Ohio Institutions

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A cleanup and maintenance crew of honor prisoners will begin work at two Columbus mental institutions in about a week, Gov. Michael V. DiSalle said Thursday.

DiSalle made the announcement following a conference with Dr. Robert A. Haines, director of mental health and correction.

A pilot crew of six to eight well-screened prisoners from London Prison Farm and Ohio Penitentiary will start at the Columbus State Hospital and Columbus State School, DiSalle said.

The governor said he also discussed possible use of honor prisoners from Marysville Reformatory for women for such institutional work.

DiSalle said Dr. Haines has set up a team from the department's central office to visit state mental institutions and check on their housekeeping.

The governor said he thinks there is no question but that improvements are being made at institutions following his surprise tours. Thursday he inspected Massillon State Hospital.

Agree On Contract

CLEVELAND (AP)—After eight hours of negotiation, the Retail Clerks Union and Kroger Co. representatives reached agreement Thursday night on a new contract. The agreement, which must be ratified by union members, averted a threatened walkout by clerks in Akron, Canton, East Liverpool and Meadville, Pa. Details of the agreement and present wage scales were not announced.
